I. Letter to Shareholders

I. Foreword

Looking back on 2020, with both quantitative easing and stimulus policies to remedy the sluggish consumer demand and the disconnect crisis of supply-chain due to the COVID-19 pandemic worldwide, the global GDP was severely slashed by 4.2%. Bolstered by the transferred orders from the China-US trade war and the effective pandemic control, the 2020 Taiwan economy stood out with a 2.98% growth, slightly higher than the previous year at 2.96%.

As for the petrochemical industry, the pandemic wreaked the recession on the economy growth, resulting in the oil prices slump and the product demand decline; moreover, the new capacity launch of the US shale gas and the China refining-chemical integration deteriorated the disequilibrium of supply and demand, disadvantaging the product pricing.

The company's main product EG, ethylene glycol, unexceptionally, suffered losses due to the curtailed product spreads resulted from the oversupply, weak pricing, as well as the soaring ethylene prices effected by unscheduled shut-down of the naphtha crackers. The company's endeavor in improving essential vantage upon operative strategy in high-valued products, coupled with the development of downstream specialty chemicals and gas products in recent years have restored the profit impetus, resulting in the stable profit and growth in return, to compensate partly the EG losses.

The yearly consolidated turnover of the company totaled NT$ 18,763,159 thousand, a decrease of 16% from the previous year, with the net loss attributable to the company NT$ 1,064,698 thousand and the after-tax earnings per share (EPS) NT$ -1.22.

II. Operating Performance Review

Safety, Health, and Environment

OUCC values industrial safety, health, environmental conservation, complies with all the related ISO management regulations, and accomplishes the efficient on-the-job trainings. In 2020, the cumulated safety man-hour in Linyuan plant reached 4.91 million hours in eight successive years, and SHE related projects in process and technology continued at all time.

In addition to improving process design, the company also invests in waste recovery equipment, pursues green production and energy efficiency improvement, striving to minimize the impact of operational production on the environment, to achieve a balanced development of industrial production and environmental protection. The implemented environmental protection projects in 2020 include the waste water recycling system, which recovers 70% of the discharged water upon operation, aiming at the conservation of the environment and water resources; moreover, the clean natural gas in replacement of the traditionally used diesel for the regenerative exhaust incinerator is driving OUCC towards its goals in optimized emission, energy saving and carbon reduction.

Ethylene Glycol Business

In H1/2020, the epidemic impact on global petrochemical products triggered the sluggish demand of downstream polyester, widening loss on ethylene glycol and ethylene spread. In H2/2020, however, the resume of normal operation of the naphtha crackers after the tightened supply and soaring prices from the hurricane impact on the shutdowns of the Gulf area, and the accidental shutdowns in Asia, conducted to the mitigation of the EG loss following the drop in ethylene prices.

In 2020, the company produced 640,000 tons of EG in total across the Strait, of 2% decline comparing to 2019; sale of 660,000 tons, of 4% decline; ethylene oxide (EO) production totaled 260,000 tons, of 18% increase over 2019, sale of 160,000 tons, of 33% increase.

Gas Business

Unlike the overall recessive domestic industry set back by the pandemic in H1/2020, the increasing export orders in the second half sped up the expansion of semiconductor capacity; the domestic gas market demand grew as the international raw material prices rebound, resulting in the rise of capacity utilization in manufacturing industry. On the other hand, the liquid oxygen and liquid nitrogen in China were over supplied owing to the stagnant manufacturing industry; while the market prices for liquid argon plunged as the export demand decreased. Yet, with the pipeline extending vantages of the nitrogen within the industrial park, and solid liquid business expansion to customers in various industries, the revenue and profit growth of gas business sustained stable throughout the year.

In 2020, the company produced a total of 540,000 tons of oxygen on both sides of the Strait. Besides its internal usage, the sales volume of oxygen totaled 80,000 tons; production of nitrogen 440,000 tons and the sale of 400,000 tons.

Specialty Chemicals Business

Based on the existing product frame, the company strives to enhance the added value of downstream ethylene oxide derivatives (EOD), provide customers with tailored services to meet the market demand. In 2020, the formulated products of high value-added such as mass-produced concrete water reducer, herbicide pelargonic acid emulsifier, refined polyethylene glycol and the like, have further completed the EOD product line.

In addition, the company not only sufficed the needs of the ethanolamine (EA) major customers at home and abroad, implementing the balanced production and sale in terms of stable market supply, but sought also straight customer cooperation for high-value applications and product quality to optimize product allocation; while the ethylene glycol butyl ether (EB) was focused on sales boost to enhance profit contribution; ethylene carbonate (EC) on novel niche market application development.

In 2020, the company produced 150,000 tons of specialty chemicals across the strait, a 17% decline comparing to 2019; sale of 160,000 tons, of 11% decline.

III. 2020 Business Goals and Future Prospects

Overview of 2020 Business Plans

1. Ethylene Glycol Business

In view of the new capacity launch of multiple naphtha crackers in China and the US, the ethylene price in 2021 is expected to maintain low. Looking ahead, with the epidemic well controlled, the demand for EG downstream polyester shall recover, as the product prices remain stable, the spreads improving, the profit impetus reviving. The company's cross-strait EG plants shall continue the high-loading operation for cost down and high production capacity efficiency to advance product competitiveness.

2. Gas Business

Conducive to the booming of global demand for high-tech products in 2021, Taiwan's semiconductor industry, with its leading edge, shall boost the export growth of the electronics industry; on the other hand, the resuming global production activities shall stimulate the rise of international crude oil prices and drive the growth demand of manufacturing industry. In all, the growth trend of gas market demand in H2/2020 is expected to stretch out to 2021.

With the niche and new application products as its main force, the company shall segment the market to increase overall gas business profit, proactively expand pipeline customers, and further approach customers in the semiconductor and electronics industries to enhance pipeline sale and profits. To strive for full production and sale, the company aims to strengthen the product portfolio configuration of liquid oxygen/nitrogen/argon, and improve the sales in food-grade liquid nitrogen, medical-grade oxygen and electronic-grade carbon dioxide.

3. Specialty Chemicals Business

Being keen on new technologies development, products' added value enhancement, innovative transformation implementation of new products, new materials and new applications, the company promotes the new EOD products, strengthens functional lotions, emulsifiers, defoamers, concrete water reducers, water-based synthetic resins, weather-resistant coatings and composite materials, and various high-value products to join the product line, to further increase the production and sales volumes.

To reduce the impact of market changes, the company adopts differential sale, and values product quality and after-sales service. In terms of ethanolamine (EA), the company maintains stable sales channels, and increases sales volume of semiconductor products to maintain leading edge domestically; committed to increasing the domestic market share of ethylene glycol butyl ether (EB) and promoting export sale simultaneously. In addition to the prime polycarbonate (PC) market, the company continues to develop its sales channels for ethylene carbonate, attend to the markets of super absorbent polymers (SAP), oil formulations and electrolyte of lithium batteries, and hopes that the output will reach new highs. Overall, the company's revenue and profit growth for specialty chemicals in 2021 can be predicted.

Prospects for Future Operations

Looking forward to 2021, factors such as the gradual relief of the epidemic from vaccination, the relocation of production lines to Taiwan, and the booming demand for emerging technologies shall conduce to the substantial enhancement of Taiwan's export performance. Additionally, with semiconductor manufacturers continual investment in advanced processes, coupled with the benefit of global supply chain restructuring, the government's vigorous promotion of green energy construction, and the incentives drawing foreign investment to Taiwan, all aid to drive the domestic demand.

In view of the OPEC's commitments to production cut, the slow recovery of downstream market demand, the rising of product pricing of chemical products ensued, resulting in the enlargement of product spreads, contributing to the growth of domestic chemical industry output and margin, of which output value in 2021 is to prevail the previous year, reaching NT$4.05 trillion, with a growth rate of 9.35%, according to the IEKQCM forecast of the Industrial Technology Research Institute.

The company's relentless endeavor in process efficiency improvement and ethylene import cost reduction is to cushion the impact of the new EG capacity launch in China. Apart from the existing industrial-grade gases, the expanding sale of food-grade and electronic-grade gases strengthen the products value to secure overall profits growth. The specialty chemical business, which is divided into solvent & amine chemicals, surfactants & performance chemicals, construction chemicals and fine chemicals according to product demands, provides customized solutions, such as concrete additives, functional detergents and reactive grade polyols, besides its general products. As the downstream product chain keep rolling out, the specialty chemicals profit can expect to increase accordingly.

In general, the company's efforts in transformation shall continue as always. With technical vantage in ethylene and propylene oxides, the company shall develop the high value-added products of downstream derivatives, and evaluate the development of optoelectronics and electronic specialties of the material application field; advance upon the plastic recycling and biodegradable fields, adhering to the spirit of environmental protection, recycling and reuse as a world-class diversified company with specialty chemicals as its core, in the hopes of pursuing steady operation, profit and growth to constantly create new value for shareholders, customers and employees, and achieve the company's corporate vision of sustainable operation.

1.2 Industrial overview

1.2.1. EG

(1) Industrial overview and development

The global demand volume of EG in 2020 totaled 30 million MT, of an annual growth rate -6%, due to the pandemic COVID-19. China, with the largest market demand of 17 million MT, accounting for 56% of the global demand and -7% annual growth rate, depended still on an annual import of 10 million MT and more besides self-supply. As the pandemic impact mitigated, downstream demand of polyester returned, EG production shall remain steady.

(2) Correlation between up-, mid- and down-stream

The total global demand for ethylene was approx. 165 million MT in 2020, of which 15% was used for the production of EO and EG. The market supply in H1/2020 loosened as oil prices dropped due to the pandemic, yet, ethylene became shortened in Q4/2020 on account of the unexpected shutdowns of Asia naphtha crackers, as well as the US ones effected by the hurricane. As the ethylene disequilibrium struck in Feb 2021 by the shutdowns resulted from the blizzard in South America, the supply and demand shall improve in H2 after operations return to normal.

EG is used up to 88% by polyester products primarily, which are composed of chemical fiber, polyester for bottles and film slitter and so on.

(3) Overall economy, product development trend and competition

With the pandemic impact, the 2020 global economy growth rate turned recessive by 3.5% in comparison with the previous year. To secure a steady economic growth after the gradual recovery, China continues to restructure, getting rid of the uncompetitive scale of product lines.

With an ample EG market supply, as additional capacity of US and China crackers and down-stream EG released, the company will adjust its EG output and continue developing high value-added EOD to enhance its overall profit level.

1.2.2 Gas

(1) Industrial overview and development

The overall status of gas industry went backward in H1/2020 due to COVID-19. With the pandemic well-controlled, and the sustained demand of high-tech product of long-distant video equipment and the like in H2/2020, the export orders rapidly expanded the up-, mid- and downstream of the semi-conductor manufacturers in Taiwan; while the impact of rebound international raw material prices on the manufacturers pushed up the production capacity utilization rate of the manufacturing industry. On the other hand, the recessive businesses in China effected by the global pandemic and the deteriorating situation abroad have severely slashed the export business in China.

In 2021, due to the continued booming in international high-tech product demand (such as 5G communications, electric vehicles, high-performance computing chips), Taiwan's leading edge in semiconductor industry will conduce to the continued growth of export orders in electronics industry chain; in addition, the resumption of production activities in various countries spur the rise of international crude oil prices, and drive the growth of manufacturers demands. Therefore, gas demand in 2021 will continue the trend of H2/2020. China, adhering to its internal circular economy policy to expand infrastructure construction, is bound to increase opportunities for business growth in China's gas market.

(2) Correlation between up-, mid- and down-stream

In addition to the company's gas output, which fully supplies internal ethylene glycol (EG), ethanolamine (EA), and ethylene carbonate (EC) plants, oxygen and nitrogen are also supplied to customers in Linyuan, Dalin and Dafa Industrial Zones, with the remaining liquid products supplied mainly to domestic electronics, petrochemical, medical, food, steel and metal processing markets. To quickly respond to customer needs, the gas plant has a liquid gas storage tank with a capacity of 10,500 MT and up, and a remote liquid level/pressure transmission system is fully installed. Based on such system, a smart car dispatching system and a big data analysis system will be developed, in order to provide customers with more satisfactory and professional services.

Tong Da Gas Industries (Yangzhou) Ltd. oxygen is supplied to Far East Union Petrochemical (Yangzhou) Ltd. for the production of ethylene oxide, and the nitrogen is provided via pipelines to customers in Yizheng Chemical Park. The liquid oxygen, liquid nitrogen, liquid argon and other products, in addition to Air Liquide Shanghai, are also sold to customers in Eastern Chinas.

(3) Overall economy, product development trend and competition

With the growth in export orders of Taiwan's semiconductor industry chain in 2021, the expansion of related industries will increase the gas demand. The gas industry will continue to invest in the construction of air separation units in accordance with the market growth trend. The gas market growth in 2021 is expected to be steady.

1.2.3 SC

(1) Industrial overview and development

EA :

The combined ethanolamine production capacity totaled 100,000 MT, including 40,000 MT of FUPY (currently suspended). In addition to supplying downstream electronic solvents, detergents, resins, inks, textiles, cement and other industrial applications, the company's EA in Linyuan is also exported to Asia-Pacific, Europe, America, and Africa. Among which, the monoethanolamine provides domestically flexible and instant supply services to electronic lotion manufacturers, and users of triethanolamine can no longer be subject to the cumbersome import procedures of the United Nations Chemical Weapons Control (CWC) and obtain a stable supply of raw materials. The EA used for the detergents, cosmetics, concrete additives turned competitive in the international market. In terms of market demand and application, the domestic electronic lotion and the cement industry in China have stable demand. In 2020, due to the loss of production capacity in the America resulted from the epidemic, the total global demand for ethanolamine was approx. 1.65 to 1.7 million MT, of -13% growth rate, among which, the demand in China was 450,000 tons/year (including self-use), of 10% decrease. It is estimated that the overall demand will remain flat in 2021 due to the post epidemic, financial, raw material fluctuations, and supply shortages in the first quarter. With little impact of the pandemic, the company's sales volume in 2020 was slightly higher than the previous year. In 2021, the company will expand its marketing with a stable channel and launch ultra-clean and high-purity ethanolamine products to supply customers of the semiconductor process cleaning solvents in Taiwan and Asia, to create the profit.

EBDB:

EBDB (Ethylene Glycol Butyl Ether) is applicable mainly to solvents for painting, printing ink, stamping ink, oil, resin, as well as metal detergent, paint remover, lubricant remover, automobile engine detergent, dry-clean solvent, and epoxy resin solvent, etc. Market requirement remains stable. The Company is the sole producer of EBDB in Taiwan, with production capacity of 30,000 MT per annum. In 2020, affected by the loss of production capacity in the Americas resulted from the epidemic, the total global demand for ethylene glycol butyl ether was approx. 850,000 to 900,000 MT, of -15% growth rate. Among which, the demand in China was 190,000 MT (including self-use), a decrease of 20%. It is expected that the overall demand will remain flat in 2021 due to the post epidemic, financial, raw material fluctuations, and supply shortages in the first quarter. With little impact of the epidemic, the company's sales volume grew by 18% in 2020. In 2021, the company will continue to optimize sales channels, develop and increase the application of high-purity products, and further increase sales to strive for the best profit.

EC:

The company's Ethylene Carbonate (EC), used mainly by polycarbonate (PC) producers as a raw material for compact discs, composite plastics, and other high-end applications, has a stable market demand. The Company's EC with the world's largest capacity 60,000 MT per annum applies the non-phosgene environmental protective production process using its own EO and recycled CO₂ as feedstocks, a dedicating effort of the company to the sustainability by reducing its GHG emission.

EOD:

The Company's two EOD plants, of total consolidated output capacity 146,000 MT, locate in Linyuan and Yangzhou with respective output capacity of 800,000 and 660,000 MT. EOD products of the Company consist of AEO, which may be applied to synthetic detergent formulas and textile auxiliaries, PEG to detergents of daily chemicals, textile auxiliaries and electronic chemicals, MPEG and HPEG used in concrete water reducers and paper pulp auxiliaries, TA as auxiliaries in pesticides and textiles, and TM used in UV curing resin, and other ethoxylates used in textile & dye process development and construction chemicals according to the strategic development of vertical integration of the Far Eastern Group, as well as new series of raw material and formulation required to be used in rubber latex, textile protection, agriculture, polyurethane, lubricant and the like. The ethoxylates of the company are primarily supplied to the down-stream industries such as daily chemicals, electronic chemicals, synthetic resins, textile and construction chemicals, which are highly correlative to the overall economy growth. In recent years, the demand of EOD has continued to boost in Asia, especially the emerging markets in China and South East Asia, following the escalating of the people's consumption level. In order to strengthen competitiveness and keep close to market demand, the company has been developing in recent years the high-end materials and formulation technologies, special alcohol ether and polyol series of new products, and provided functional products of safe antibacterial, functional cleaning, environmental protection, waste reduction, and recycling to meet customers diversified demand, conducting to the increase of revenue and profit, with a getting completed product line.

The EOD plant of the FUPY in Yangzhou is to mainly supply the China domestic market. Following the China economic development in the recent years, with the market demand focused on the expansion of its domestic requirement and the industrial upgrade, the FUPY has been proceeding with the expansion of new product lines to further develop other EOD products, besides its original AEO, to enhance the product competitiveness. The future of FUPY is well expected.

(2) Correlation between up-, mid- and down-stream

EA:

With EO as its major feedstock, the cost of EA has become tightly linked to the ethylene market, the up-stream of EO. EA has a variety of applications, primarily as a surfactant in household detergents, electronics solvents, wood preservatives, taurine, insecticides and herbicides, textiles and cement auxiliaries. In particular, the market demands of electronics solvents, and daily chemical auxiliaries, fluorescent whitening agents, insecticides and herbicides and cement auxiliaries have been stable. Besides the Taiwan and China markets, the EA products were sold to Asia Pacific, the Middle East, Africa and Europe.

EBDB:

The costs of EO and n-butanol, raw materials of EBDB, are highly correlative to the market status of the up-stream ethylene and propylene. The main applications of EBDB include solvents, paint remover agent, lubricant remover agent, automobile engine detergent, dry-clean solvent, epoxy resin solvent and so on. The market demand is stable. The company is the sole producer of EBDB in Taiwan.

EC:

The company's EC plant adopts safe, eco-friendly and competitive production process using its own production of EO and recycled CO₂, and mainly produced to satisfy the stable demand of the down-stream PC supplier, Chi Mei, in the production of polycarbonate (PC).

EOD:

With EO as a self-supply feedstock, others feedstock as fatty amine and methanol were also procured for production. EOD is widely used by mid- and down-stream markets as daily chemicals, textile auxiliary, medicine, construction, resin paint and electronics.

(3) Overall economy, product development trend and competition

EA :

For the time being, the company is the only domestic EA producer, with competitive vantage using self-produced EO as feedstock. The company owns 60% domestic market share, as EA demand from the electronics industry remains stable in Taiwan. The Company's future marketing strategy is to enhance domestic market share as well as exports to Asia, Europe and America. The Company's primary rivals include Nippon Shokubai (Japan), Optimal-Petronas (Malaysia), Thai Ethanolamines (Thailand), Sabic and Sadara (Saudi Arabia), and some other manufacturers in China, Europe and America. EA sales objective in 2021, besides enhancing marketing through domestic and overseas channels to maintain stable demand and supply, aims at upgrading EA product to semi-conductor level with high value for differentiated market sale, to survive the extreme competitiveness, creating better profit.

On the other hand, the EO feedstock of FUPY EA can now be self-sustained. Though the EA demand in China continues to grow, the EA market is being overrun by competition. To achieve a higher production rate to reduce cost, it is necessary to maintain steady supply and demand.

EBDB:

With EO and n-butanol as raw materials, EBDB is widely used as solvents with mid to high boiling point, which covers paints, printing ink, stamping ink, oil, resin solvents, metal detergent, paint remover, lubricant remover agents, automobile engine detergent, dry-clean solvent, and epoxy resin solvent, etc.

EC:

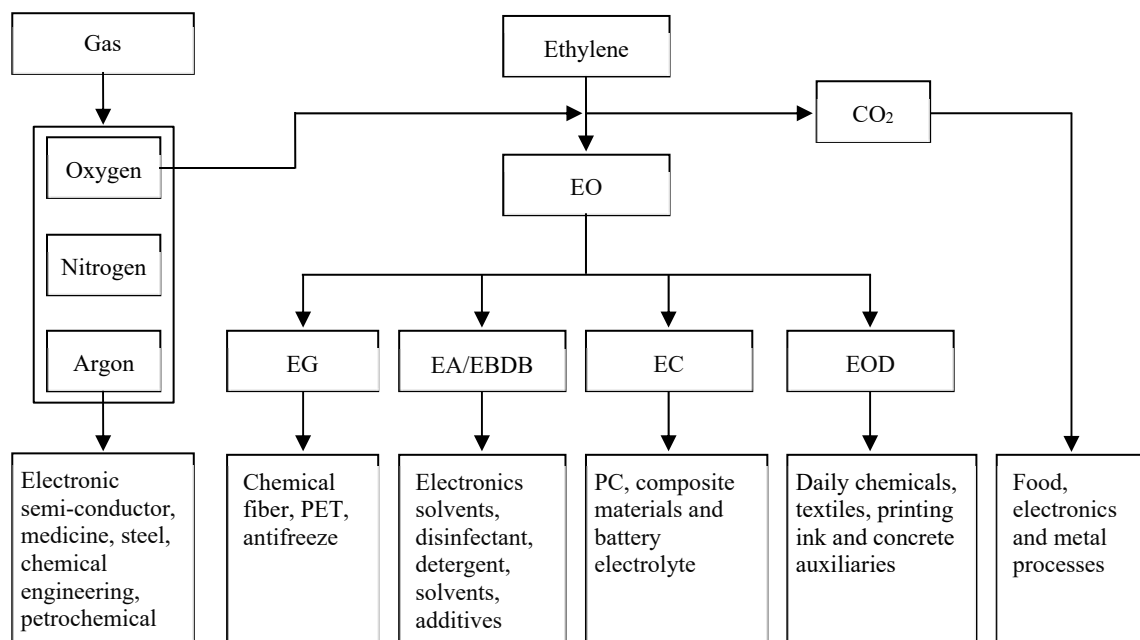

Due to the stable market demand for PC, EC is in steady development. Despite of PC, EC can also be applied to electrolyte of lithium battery, diesel additive, polyether polyols for PU, and so on. With its strength in safe production and eco-friendliness, EC obtains good potential.

EOD:

With self-owned EO as feedstock, the company’s EOD, produced with advanced processing equipment, coupled with stable quality and strong technical service capability, has established its market share. Given that the domestic market scale is small and restricted, current EOD is prioritized to steadily supply domestic downstream customers, then to be exported to South East Asia, New Zealand and Australia, Middle East and Latin America, etc. On account of the rapid growth in China economy, EOD product demand in daily chemicals remains growing followed by the booming of consumption capability. However, the market becomes over supplied as new capacity continues to launch. With more imported products of lower costs joining in the competition, EOD margin isn’t easy to maintain.

EOD plant of FUPY shall remain high operation rate in view of competition, and endeavor in marketing, development of new products and new customers, as well as business territory expansion to enhance overall advantages in China.

(4) Industry overview

1.3 Technology and R&D overview

The Company has always highly valued R&D, and allots a substantial yearly budget for the purpose. The R&D expenditure in 2020 was NT$ 149,965 thousand, NT$ 161,393 thousand in 2019, and NT$ 48,845 thousand in Q1/2021.

With EG as the Company's prime product and EO as its precursor, the Company has since been concentrating on the development and production of EO derivatives, in view of the difficulty in EO storage and transportation. Given the risk of the economic circulation of raw material to the bulk such as EG, the development of EOD has been prioritized to transform OUCC into a Specialty Chemical company, based on the premise of the diversification and risk management. In recent years, the R&D has continued to develop high-quality EOD/POD customized products. The main new products in 2020 include: PU/TPU reactive polyether polyol (PEGR1/PTGR1/BPAR series), styrenated phenol ethoxylates (TSP series)/ C13 oxo alcohol ethoxylates (TDE series)/ castor oil ethoxylates (CO series) /polyoxyethylene sorbitan esters (TWEEN series) for emulsification and dispersion; EO/PO copolyether (PE, HME75, LMV series) for lubricant and deformer; bis(2-hydroxyethyl) terephthalate derivatives (CMB, CHB, PHB, HBS series) as raw materials for transesterification/biopolyols, etc.; among which, PEGR1/PTGR1 products have excellent properties of yellowing resistance and non-explosive polymerization; surfactant products of functions such as excellent wetting, penetrating, emulsifying, dispersing, cleaning and others can be developed, according to customer requirements, into the low foam, low pour point, low scent, and biodegradable products, of which qualities have been well reviewed and recommended by downstream customers.

In view of the company's mission in environmental protection, and concern over the decrease of production consumption of terminal products as well as adding high product value to increase the company's revenue and profit, the new technologies in synthesis such as radical polymerization, esterification and transesterification, and the formulated modulation have been undertaken the further processing of EOD/POD downstream. In 2019, the company has successfully developed high-efficiency water-reducing agent WR01, slump agent SR01, and the functional admixture formulation JSP01 of slow coagulation and high pour point traits for concrete, supplied to the downstream premix plants starting Q4/2020, and was rewarded the Prize of Excellent Synergy of the "2020 Far Eastern Spirit Award". Additionally, in 2020, a number of products of daily chemicals/dyeing and finishing have been successfully developed, including functional clothing lotion, scale remover, scouring agent, solvent, reducing solvent, and formulated products such as zinc oxide suppressor with bacterial inhibiting/antibacterial functions, sunscreen and oil agent.

Aiming at the production of high-value fine chemicals, the company has developed special ring-opening polymerization technology to produce special polyether polyols, and high-tech reductive amination technology to produce polyetheramine series and ethyleneamine series (including ethylenediamine, diethylenetriamine, aminoethylethanolamine, piperazine, etc.).

Special polyether polyol mainly contains PO or EO-PO, EO/PO-THF copolymer series of mono-, di-, tri-, tetra-, and hexa-functional groups. The molecular weights of each series of polyether polyols range 230-20000, and the physical properties of each series of polyether polyols can be adjusted according to specific needs. Various series of polyether polyols can be applied to various polyurethane (PU) resins such as adhesives and sealants, elastomers, rigid foams and soft foams to improve their quality grades and physical properties, such production capacity has been ready since 2019.

The polyetheramine series are mainly mono-, di-, and tri-functional PO or EO-PO copolymer. The molecular weights of each polyetheramine series range 200-2000, which can mainly adjust / optimize the physical properties of the resin, and be suitable for use in the resin industry such as epoxy resin, polyurethane (PU), and polyamide fiber. Currently, the establishment of related technology has been completed for laboratory-level of consecutive production testing. Mass production will be expected by Q4/2021.

The ethyleneamine series including ethylenediamine, diethylenetriamine, aminoethylethanolamine, and piperazine can be used in industries such as resin additives, electroplating, pharmaceuticals, agriculture, textile, papermaking, and solvents. At present, the establishment of related technology has also been completed for laboratory-level of consecutive production testing. Mass production can be expected by Q4/2021.

2.1.2 Future market overview

(1) EG :

The total domestic output was approx. 2,310,000 MT, imports 40,000 MT, exports 1,410,000 MT, and domestic demand 940,000 MT in 2020.

(2) EO :

The demand for EOD grows by 3% or more each year. The Company's EO fulfills internal demand for EA, EC, and EOD.

(3) DEG :

The domestic demand is approx. 50,000 MT, while the supply is more than 100,000 MT. Export is necessary for the balance of DEG domestic market.

(4) GAS :

The Company competes with Air Products San Fu, Linde LienHwa, Air Liquide Far Eastern and Taipei Oxygen and Gas. In 2021, the Company will extend pipeline business ratio and area, and increase high value product of CO₂.

(5) EA :

As the sole domestic manufacturer of EA, 50% of production volume goes to the domestic market, which used to rely totally on imports. The remaining 50% will be exported to China, Asia Pacific, Africa, Europe and America.

(6) EBDB :

As the sole domestic manufacturer of EBDB currently, 40% of production volume goes to the domestic market, while the remaining 60% will be exported to China, Asia Pacific, and Africa.

(7) EC :

As the sole domestic manufacturer of EC currently, which demand used to depend totally on the export, 90% of the company's output will fulfill the domestic demand, while the rest 10% be exported to China, Pacific-Asia, Europe and America.

(8) EOD :

With diversified downstream applications to household industry such as detergent, textile auxiliary, coating resins, concrete water reducers, and so on, the Company will be extending its technical services to customers, in hope that future EOD shall grow along with economic development, and seek long-term cooperation with leading SC manufacturers to further expand its domestic market share and increase export volume; 50% of production will go to the domestic market and 50% to China, South East Asia and the Middle East.

2.1.3 Advantages/Disadvantages and Countermeasure in Competitiveness and Future Development

(1) Advantages :

- (a) With the highly efficient catalyst now in use, the efficiency of the EG plant has been improving remarkably each year resulting in the saving of feedstock ethylene and oxygen as well as energy consumption. In addition, the high-purity EO produced is not only used to produce EA and EC, but also for the newly developed high value-added EOD.
- (b) With the steady internal demand for oxygen to stabilize production costs, the gas remains unaffected by the external economy, which is a unique advantage amongst domestic gas producers.
- (c) To effectively reduce energy consumption, improve the quality and competitiveness of the product, EA plant No. 2 has adopted newly developed low water revamp process.
- (d) Due to that TEA is under the control of CWC of the United Nations and domestic production has released local TEA users from the almost inextricable and complicated import application procedures, the domestic demand and supply continue to grow.
- (e) In addition to its use as feedstock for electrolyte of lithium battery and composite material, the production of EC under the environmentally protective non-phosgene process and the use of GHG CO₂ as feedstock, have earned the recognition of society and environmental conservation institutions. EC is supplied under contract to satisfy the downstream Chi Mei's requirement for PC marketing.

- (f) The cost advantage of EOD plant due to self-owned feedstock EO and advanced processing equipment has resulted in high quality product with far lower than average impurity content, which is highly regarded by the customers. Additionally, with high capabilities in product development and technical service, the Company enables to meet with customers' requirements for new product development
- (2) Disadvantages and countermeasures :
 - (a) With CPC as major supplier of ethylene, import is necessary when there is a shortage.
 - (b) To deal with the disadvantages of the costly transportation, the Company is working on the installation of an optimizing transportation dispatch system to ensure stable and secure supply of gas products.

2.2.2 Production processes

- (1) EG plant: After preheating, ethylene goes through the sulfur and acetylene removal units and is injected into the cycle gas loop with oxygen before catalyzed with silver and reacted to form ethylene oxide (EO), carbon dioxide (CO₂) and water. The EO is then absorbed by circulated water in the main absorbing column and pumped to the gas stripping column and EO recovery system to produce crude EO. Part of this is purified to high purity EO in the HPEO column by removal of aldehydes while the rest of the crude EO is mixed with process water and reacts to glycols in the glycol reactor. The glycol water mixture passes through multiple effect evaporators to remove water. The concentration and purification columns remove impurities to produce high quality mono-, di-, and tri-ethylene glycol (MEG, DEG, TEG) products.
- (2) Air separation plant: Air is filtered to remove particulates and dust, compressed by the main air compressor passed through molecular sieves to remove water, CO₂, and light hydrocarbons by adsorption. The purified dry air passes through primary heat exchangers to reach liquefying temperature and enters the fractionation column where it is split into high purity oxygen (O₂), nitrogen (N₂) and argon (Ar). Liquid products (LOX, LIN, LAr) are produced by compression-expansion of the gaseous O₂/N₂/Ar in the liquefiers.
To secure the quality control of medical GOX and LOX, the medical oxygen has been produced through dedicated singular-use pipeline since April 2009.
- (3) EA plant: EO reacts with ammonia solution to produce ethanol-amine solution. The solution goes through ammonia, water removal and vacuum distillation processes to produce mono-, di-, tri- ethanol amines (MEA, DEA, TEA) and heavy TEA (TEAH) products.
- (4) EC plant: EO and CO₂ react in the high pressure reactor to produce ethylene carbonate (EC), during which reaction the liquid EC is catalyzed and proceeds with vacuum distillation to reach high purity.

- (5) EOD plant: EO reacts with various initiators such as PO, methanol, natural fatty alcohol, synthetic alcohols, DEG, methallyl alcohols, fatty amine, trimethylpropanol, benzene ring and so on in the high pressure autoclaves to produce different Ethoxylates (AEOs, TDK/TDE, MPEG, PEG, HPEG, TA, TM, PH1 and TSP series). The batch reaction process undergoes catalyst addition, moisture removal, reaction, aging and neutralization steps in the facility which includes pre-treatment, reaction and post treatment vessels. The agricultural and textile emulsifier products are formulated at the EOD plant with the base materials from the self-developed EOD series of the Company.
- (6) To produce the Ethylene Glycol Butyl Ether, the butanol is to react with EO to produce glycol ether solution. Then, through the processes of butanol removal and the vacuum distillation there come the ethylene glycol butyl ether (EB), diethylene glycol butyl ether (DB), and triethylene glycol butyl ether (TB), etc. Starting 2018, the developed products of the de-salt series, the poly ethylene glycol butyl ether (HB) and the like provide outstanding functions to EBDB series in applications of solvents and non-ionic surfactants.

The financial analysis formula:

1. Financial structure

- (1) Liabilities to assets = Total liabilities / total assets
- (2) Long-term fund for property, plant and equipment = (total equity + non-current liabilities) / net property, plant and equipment

2. Liquidity analysis

- (1) Current ratio = current assets / current liabilities
- (2) Quick ratio = (current assets – inventory – prepaid expense) / current liabilities
- (3) Interest coverage ratio = earnings before interest and tax / interest expenses

3. Operation performance analysis

- (1) Receivables (including accounts receivable and notes receivable resulting from operation) turnover = net sales / average accounts receivable (including accounts receivable and notes receivable resulting from operation)
- (2) Average collection days = 365 / accounts receivable turnover
- (3) Inventory turnover = cost of sales / average inventory
- (4) Payables (including accounts payable and notes payable resulting from operation) turnover = cost of sales / average accounts payable (including accounts payable and notes payable resulting from operation)
- (5) Average inventory turnover days = 365 / inventory turnover
- (6) Property, plant and equipment turnover = net sales / average net property, plant and equipment
- (7) Total assets turnover rate = net sales / average total assets

4. Profitability

- (1) ROA = [net income + interest expense × (1 – tax rate)] / average total assets.
- (2) ROE = net income / average total equity
- (3) Net income margin = net income / net sales
- (4) Earnings Per Share = (income attributable to parent company – preferred stock dividend) / weighed average number of shares outstanding

5. Cash flow

- (1) Cash flow ratio = Net cash flow from operating activities / current liabilities
- (2) Cash flow adequacy ratio = Net cash flow from operating activities over the last five years / (capital expenditures + increase in inventory + cash dividends) over the last five years
- (3) Cash flow reinvestment ratio = (Net cash flow from operating activities-cash dividends) / (gross property, plant and equipment + long-term investment + other non-current assets + working capital)

6. Leverage:

- (1) Operating leverage = (Net sales-variable operating costs and expenses) / operating income
- (2) Financial leverage = Operating income / (operating income-interest expenses)

2020 Independent Auditors’ Report

(English Translation of a Report Originally Issued in Chinese)

The Board of Directors and Stockholders
Oriental Union Chemical Corporation

We have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of Oriental Union Chemical Corporation and its subsidiaries (the “Group”), which comprise the consolidated balance sheets as of December 31, 2020 and 2019, and the consolidated statements of comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows for the years then ended, and the notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies (collectively referred to as the “consolidated financial statements”).

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of the Group as of December 31, 2020 and 2019, and its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”), International Accounting Standards (“IAS”), IFRIC Interpretations (“IFRIC”), and SIC Interpretations (“SIC”) endorsed and issued into effect by the Financial Supervisory Commission (“FSC”) of the Republic of China (“ROC”).

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Regulations Governing Auditing and Attestation of Financial Statements by Certified Public Accountants and auditing standards generally accepted in the ROC. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors’ Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with The Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the ROC, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2020. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

The descriptions of the key audit matters of the consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2020 are as follow:

The Impairment Loss of Property, Plant and Equipment

The consolidated balances of property, plant and equipment amounted to $13,837,770 thousand as of December 31, 2020. On each balance sheet date, the Group reviews its tangible assets for indications of impairment. If any indication thereof exists, the Group then estimates the recoverable amount of the assets. If it is not possible to determine the recoverable amount (fair value less cost to sell and value in use) for the individual asset, then the Group will determine the recoverable amount for the asset's cash-generating unit. Because the aforementioned tangible assets represent 41% of total consolidated assets and the calculation for recoverable amount involves several assumptions and estimations, which directly impact the amount recognized as impairment losses, we deem the review of impairment of assets a key audit matter.

Corresponding audit procedures:

1. We obtained an understanding of management's estimation of asset impairment and of the design and execution for relevant controls.
2. We evaluated the rationality of management's identification of impairment indicators and the appropriateness of the assumptions. Given that there are impairment indications, we performed:
 - a. Obtained the asset impairment valuation form produced by the management for each cash-generating unit.
 - b. Consulted Deloitte firm internal experts regarding the appropriateness of the assumptions, including the classification of cash-generating units, forecast of cash flows, and discount rate.

Other Matter

We have also audited the parent company only financial statements of Oriental Union Chemical Corporation as of and for the years ended December 31, 2020 and 2019 on which we have issued an unmodified report.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and IFRS, IAS, IFRIC, and SIC endorsed and issued into effect by the FSC of the ROC, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance, including the audit committee, are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the ROC will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the ROC, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

1. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
2. Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
3. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
4. Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
5. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
6. Obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision, and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2020 and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partners on the audit resulting in this independent auditors' report are Hsin-Wei Tai and Yu-Wei Fan.

4. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

a. Statement of compliance

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers, and IFRSs as endorsed and issued into effect by the FSC.

b. Basis of preparation

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis except for financial instruments measured at fair value, and net defined benefit liabilities measured at the present value of the defined benefit obligation less the fair value of plan assets.

The fair value measurements, which are grouped into Levels 1 to 3 based on the degree to which the fair value measurement inputs are observable and based on the significance of the inputs to the fair value measurement in its entirety, are described as follows:

- 1) Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;
- 2) Level 2 inputs are inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for an asset or liability, either directly (i.e., as prices) or indirectly (i.e., derived from prices); and
- 3) Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for an asset or liability.

c. Classification of current and non-current assets and liabilities

Current assets include:

- 1) Assets held primarily for the purpose of trading;
- 2) Assets expected to be realized within 12 months after the reporting period; and
- 3) Cash and cash equivalents unless the asset is restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least 12 months after the reporting period.

Current liabilities include:

- 1) Liabilities held primarily for the purpose of trading;
- 2) Liabilities due to be settled within 12 months after the reporting period, even if an agreement to refinance, or to reschedule payments, on a long-term basis is completed after the reporting period and before the consolidated financial statements are authorized for issue; and
- 3) Liabilities for which the Group does not have an unconditional right to defer settlement for at least 12 months after the reporting period.

Assets and liabilities that are not classified as current are classified as non-current.

d. Basis of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements incorporate the financial statements of the Corporation and the entities controlled by the Corporation (i.e., its subsidiaries).

When necessary, adjustments are made to the financial statements of subsidiaries to bring their accounting policies into line with those used by the Group.

All intra-group transactions, balances, income and expenses are eliminated in full upon consolidation. Total comprehensive income of subsidiaries is attributed to the owners of the Corporation and to the non-controlling interests even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance.

Changes in the Group's ownership interests in subsidiaries that do not result in the Group losing control over the subsidiaries are accounted for as equity transactions. The carrying amounts of the interests of the Group and the non-controlling interests are adjusted to reflect the changes in their relative interests in the subsidiaries. Any difference between the amount by which the non-controlling interests are adjusted and the fair value of the consideration paid or received is recognized directly in equity and attributed to the owners of the Corporation.

See Note 12, Tables 7 and 8 for detailed information on subsidiaries (including percentages of ownership and main businesses).

e. Foreign currencies

In preparing the financial statements of each individual group entity, transactions in currencies other than the entity's functional currency (i.e., foreign currencies) are recognized at the rates of exchange prevailing at the dates of the transactions.

At the end of each reporting period, monetary items denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing at that date. Exchange differences on monetary items arising from settlement or translation are recognized in profit or loss in the period.

Non-monetary items denominated in foreign currencies that are measured at fair value are retranslated at the rates prevailing at the date when the fair value is determined. Exchange differences arising from the retranslation of non-monetary items are included in profit or loss for the period except for exchange differences arising from the retranslation of non-monetary items in respect of which gains and losses are recognized directly in other comprehensive income; in which cases, the exchange differences are also recognized directly in other comprehensive income.

Non-monetary item denominated in a foreign currency and measured at historical cost is stated at the reporting currency as originally translated from the foreign currency.

For the purpose of presenting consolidated financial statements, the financial statements of the Corporation and its foreign operations (including subsidiaries and associates in other countries) that are prepared using functional currencies which are different from the currency of the Corporation are translated into the presentation currency, the New Taiwan dollar, as follows: Assets and liabilities are translated at the exchange rates prevailing at the end of the reporting period; and income and expense items are translated at the average exchange rates for the period. The resulting currency translation differences are recognized in other comprehensive income (attributed to the owners of the Corporation and non-controlling interests as appropriate).

f. Inventories

Inventories consist of raw materials, work in progress and finished goods and are stated at the lower of cost or net realizable value. Inventory write-downs are made by item, except where it may be appropriate to group similar or related items. The net realizable value is the estimated selling price of inventories less all estimated costs of completion and costs necessary to make the sale. Inventories are recorded at the weighted-average cost on the balance sheet date.

g. Investments in associates

An associate is an entity over which the Group has significant influence and which is not a subsidiary. The Group uses the equity method to account for its investments in associates.

Under the equity method, investments in an associate is initially recognized at cost and adjusted thereafter to recognize the Group's share of the profit or loss and other comprehensive income of the associate. The Group also recognizes the changes in the Group's share of the equity of associates attributable to the Group.

When the Group's share of losses of an associate equals or exceeds its interest in that associate, the Group discontinues recognizing its share of further losses. Additional losses and liabilities are recognized only to the extent that the Group has incurred legal obligations, or constructive obligations, or made payments on behalf of that associate.

The entire carrying amount of an investment is tested for impairment as a single asset by comparing its recoverable amount with its carrying amount. Any impairment loss recognized is not allocated to any asset that forms part of the carrying amount of the investment. Any reversal of that impairment loss is recognized to the extent that the recoverable amount of the investment subsequently increases.

The Group discontinues the use of the equity method from the date on which its investment ceases to be an associate. Any retained investment is measured at fair value at that date, and the fair value is regarded as the investment's fair value on initial recognition as a financial asset. The difference between the previous carrying amount of the associate attributable to the retained interest and its fair value is included in the determination of the gain or loss on disposal of the associate. The Group accounts for all amounts previously recognized in other comprehensive income in relation to that associate on the same basis as would be required had that associates directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities.

When a group entity transacts with its associate, profits and losses resulting from the transactions with the associate are recognized in the Group' consolidated financial statements only to the extent that interests in the associate are not related to the Group.

h. Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment loss.

Property, plant and equipment in the course of construction are measured at cost less any recognized impairment loss. Cost includes professional fees and borrowing costs eligible for capitalization. Such assets are depreciated and classified to the appropriate categories of property, plant and equipment when completed and ready for their intended use.

Depreciation of property, plant and equipment is recognized using the straight-line method. Each significant part is depreciated separately. The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation methods are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effects of any changes in the estimates accounted for on a prospective basis.

On derecognition of an item of property, plant and equipment, the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset is recognized in profit or loss.

i. Investment properties

Investment properties are properties held to earn rentals and/or for capital appreciation. Investment properties also include land held for a currently undetermined future use.

Investment properties are initially measured at cost, including transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, investment properties are measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment loss. Depreciation is recognized using the straight-line method.

On derecognition of an investment property, the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset is included in profit or loss.

j. Intangible assets

Intangible assets with finite useful lives that are acquired separately are initially measured at cost and subsequently measured at cost less accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment loss. Amortization is recognized on a straight-line basis. The estimated useful lives, residual values, and amortization methods are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in the estimates accounted for on a prospective basis.

On derecognition of an intangible asset, the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset is recognized in profit or loss.

k. Impairment of property, plant and equipment, right-of-use asset and intangible assets

At the end of each reporting period, the Group reviews the carrying amounts of its property, plant and equipment, right-of-use asset and intangible assets, to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss. When it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the Group estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs.

The recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs to sell and value in use. If the recoverable amount of an asset or cash-generating unit is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset or cash-generating unit is reduced to its recoverable amount, with the resulting impairment loss recognized in profit or loss.

When an impairment loss is subsequently reversed, the carrying amount of the corresponding asset or cash-generating unit is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but only to the extent of the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset or cash-generating unit in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognized in profit or loss.

l. Financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognized when the Group becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instruments.

Financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issuance of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets and financial liabilities at FVTPL) are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition. Transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets or financial liabilities at FVTPL are recognized immediately in profit or loss.

1) Financial assets

All regular way purchases or sales of financial assets are recognized and derecognized on a trade date basis.

a) Measurement categories

Financial assets are classified into the following categories: Financial assets at FVTPL, financial assets at amortized cost and investments in equity instruments at FVTOCI.

i. Financial assets at FVTPL

Financial assets are classified as at FVTPL when such financial assets are mandatorily classified as at FVTPL. Financial assets mandatorily classified as at FVTPL include investments in equity instruments which are not designated as at FVTOCI.

Financial assets at FVTPL are subsequently measured at fair value, with any gains or losses arising on remeasurement recognized in profit or loss. The net gain or loss recognized in profit or loss incorporates any dividends or interest earned on such a financial asset. Fair value is determined in the manner described in Note 27.

ii. Financial assets at amortized cost

Financial assets that meet the following conditions are subsequently measured at amortized cost:

- i) The financial assets are held within a business model whose objective is to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows; and
- ii) The contractual terms of the financial assets give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Subsequent to initial recognition, financial assets at amortized cost, including cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables, and other receivables, are measured at amortized cost, which equals the gross carrying amount determined using the effective interest method less any impairment loss. Exchange differences are recognized in profit or loss.

Interest income is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of such a financial asset, except for:

- i) Purchased or originated credit-impaired financial assets, for which interest income is calculated by applying the credit-adjusted effective interest rate to the amortized cost of such financial assets; and
- ii) Financial assets that are not credit-impaired on purchase or origination but have subsequently become credit-impaired, for which interest income is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the amortized cost of such financial assets in subsequent reporting periods.

A financial asset is credit impaired when one or more of the following events have occurred:

- i) Significant financial difficulty of the issuer or the borrower;
- ii) Breach of contract, such as a default;
- iii) It is becoming probable that the borrower will enter bankruptcy or undergo a financial reorganization; or
- iv) The disappearance of an active market for that financial asset because of financial difficulties.

Cash equivalents include time deposits and repurchase agreements collateralized by bonds with original maturities within 3 months from the date of acquisition, which are highly liquid, readily convertible to a known amount of cash and are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value. These cash equivalents are held for the purpose of meeting short-term cash commitments.

iii. Investments in equity instruments at FVTOCI

On initial recognition, the Group may make an irrevocable election to designate investments in equity instruments as at FVTOCI. Designation as at FVTOCI is not permitted if the equity investment is held for trading or if it is contingent consideration recognized by an acquirer in a business combination.

Investments in equity instruments at FVTOCI are subsequently measured at fair value with gains and losses arising from changes in fair value recognized in other comprehensive income and accumulated in other equity. The cumulative gain or loss will not be reclassified to profit or loss on disposal of the equity investments; instead, it will be transferred to retained earnings.

Dividends on these investments in equity instruments are recognized in profit or loss when the Group's right to receive the dividends is established, unless the dividends clearly represent a recovery of part of the cost of the investment.

b) Impairment of financial assets

The Group recognizes a loss allowance for expected credit losses on financial assets at amortized cost (including trade receivables).

The Group always recognizes lifetime expected credit losses (ECLs) for trade receivables. For all other financial instruments, the Group recognizes lifetime ECLs when there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition. If, on the other hand, the credit risk on a financial instrument has not increased significantly since initial recognition, the Group measures the loss allowance for that financial instrument at an amount equal to 12-month ECLs.

Expected credit losses reflect the weighted average of credit losses with the respective risks of default occurring as the weights. Lifetime ECLs represent the expected credit losses that will result from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument. In contrast, 12-month ECLs represent the portion of lifetime ECLs that is expected to result from default events on a financial instrument that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date.

For internal credit risk management purposes, the Group considers the following situations as indication that a financial asset is in default (without taking into account any collateral held by the Group):

- i. Internal or external information shows that the debtor is unlikely to pay its creditors.
- ii. Financial asset is overdue unless the Group has reasonable and corroborative information to support a more lagged default criterion.

The impairment loss of all financial assets is recognized in profit or loss by a reduction in their carrying amounts through a loss allowance account.

c) Derecognition of financial assets

The Group derecognizes a financial asset only when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire or when it transfers the financial asset and substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset to another party.

On derecognition of a financial asset at amortized cost in its entirety, the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the sum of the consideration received and receivable is recognized in profit or loss. On derecognition of an investment in an equity instrument at FVTOCI, the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the sum of the consideration received and receivable is recognized in profit or loss, and the cumulative gain or loss which had been recognized in other comprehensive income is transferred directly to retained earnings, without recycling through profit or loss.

2) Financial liabilities

a) Subsequent measurement

All financial liabilities are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method.

b) Derecognition of financial liabilities

The difference between the carrying amount of a financial liability derecognized and the consideration paid, including any non-cash assets transferred or liabilities assumed, is recognized in profit or loss.

m. Revenue recognition

Revenue from the sale of goods and rendering of services

The Group identifies contracts with customers, allocates the transaction price to the performance obligations and recognizes revenue when performance obligations are satisfied.

For contracts where the period between the date on which the Group transfers a promised good or service to a customer and the date on which the customer pays for that good or service is one year or less, the Group does not adjust the promised amount of consideration for the effects of a significant financing component.

When another party is involved in providing goods or services to a customer, the Group recognizes revenue in the gross amount if it controls each specified good or service before that good or service is transferred to the customer (the Group is a principal); otherwise, the Group recognizes revenue in the net amount (the Group is an agent).

A specified good or service is a distinct good or service, the Group determines whether it is a principal or an agent for each specified good or service.

The Group is a principal if it meets any one of the following conditions:

- 1) The Group obtains control of a good or service from the other party before the Group transfers the good or service to a customer.
- 2) The Group has a right to a service to be performed by the other party, which gives the entity the ability to direct that party to provide the service to the customer on the entity's behalf.
- 3) The Group obtains control of a good or service from the other party that it then combines with other goods or services in providing the specified good or service to the customer.

Indicators that are used to determine whether the Group controls the specified good or service before it is transferred to the customer include, but are not limited to, the following:

- 1) The Group is primarily responsible for fulfilling the promise to provide the specified good or service.

- 2) The Group has inventory risk before and after the specified good or service has been transferred to a customer or after transfer of control to the customer.
- 3) The Group has discretion in establishing the price for the specified good or service.

n. Leases

At the inception of a contract, the Group assesses whether the contract is, or contains, a lease.

1) The Group as lessor

Lease payments from operating leases are recognized as income on a straight-line basis over the terms of the relevant leases.

2) The Group as lessee

The Group recognizes right-of-use assets and lease liabilities for all leases at the commencement date of a lease, except for short-term leases and low-value asset leases accounted for applying a recognition exemption where lease payments are recognized as expenses on a straight-line basis over the lease terms.

Right-of-use assets are initially measured at cost. Right-of-use assets are subsequently measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses and adjusted for any remeasurement of the lease liabilities. Right-of-use assets are presented on a separate line in the consolidated balance sheets.

Right-of-use assets are depreciated using the straight-line method from the commencement dates to the earlier of the end of the useful lives of the right-of-use assets or the end of the lease terms.

Lease liabilities are initially measured at the present value of the lease payments. The lease payments are discounted using the interest rate implicit in a lease, if that rate can be readily determined. If that rate cannot be readily determined, the lessee's incremental borrowing rate will be used.

Subsequently, lease liabilities are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method, with interest expense recognized over the lease terms. When there is a change in future lease payments, the Group remeasures the lease liabilities with a corresponding adjustment to the right-of-use-assets. However, if the carrying amount of the right-of-use assets is reduced to zero, any remaining amount of the remeasurement is recognized in profit or loss. Lease liabilities are presented on a separate line in the consolidated balance sheets.

o. Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to an acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets are added to the cost of those assets, until such time as the assets are substantially ready for their intended use or sale.

Investment income earned on the temporary investment of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on qualifying assets is deducted from the borrowing costs eligible for capitalization.

Other than those stated above, all other borrowing costs are recognized in profit or loss in the period in which they are incurred.

p. Government grants

Government grants are not recognized until there is reasonable assurance that the Group will comply with the conditions attached to them and that the grants will be received.

Government grants related to income are recognized in other income on a systematic basis over the periods in which the Group recognizes as expenses the related costs that the grants intend to compensate. Specifically, government grants whose primary condition is that the Group should purchase, construct or otherwise acquire non-current assets are recognized as deferred revenue and transferred to profit or loss on a systematic and rational basis over the useful lives of the related assets.

q. Employee benefits

1) Short-term employee benefits

Liabilities recognized in respect of short-term employee benefits are measured at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid in exchange for the related services.

2) Retirement benefits

Payments to defined contribution retirement benefit plans are recognized as expenses when employees have rendered services entitling them to the contributions.

Defined benefit costs (including service cost, net interest and rereasurement) under defined benefit retirement benefit plans are determined using the projected unit credit method. Service cost (including current service cost and net interest on the net defined benefit liabilities (assets)) is recognized as employee benefits expense in the period in which they occur. Rereasurement, comprising actuarial gains and losses and the return on plan assets (excluding interest), is recognized in other comprehensive income in the period in which it occurs. Rereasurement recognized in other comprehensive income is reflected immediately in retained earnings and will not be reclassified to profit or loss.

Net defined benefit liabilities (assets) represent the actual deficit (surplus) in the Group's defined benefit plans. Any surplus resulting from this calculation is limited to the present value of any refunds from the plans or reductions in future contributions to the plans.

r. Taxation

Income tax expense represents the sum of the tax currently payable and deferred tax.

1) Current tax

Income tax payable (recoverable) is based on taxable profit (loss) for the year determined according to the applicable tax laws of each tax jurisdiction.

According to the Income Tax Law in the ROC, an additional tax of unappropriated earnings is provided for as income tax in the year the shareholders approve to retain earnings.

Adjustments of prior years' tax liabilities are added to or deducted from the current year's tax provision.

2) Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognized on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit.

Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognized for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are generally recognized for all deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which those deductible temporary differences can be utilized.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognized for taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries and associates, except where the Group is able to control the reversal of the temporary difference and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future. Deferred tax assets arising from deductible temporary differences associated with such investments are only recognized to the extent that it is probable that there will be sufficient taxable profits against which to utilize the benefits of the temporary differences and they are expected to reverse in the foreseeable future.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the assets to be recovered. A previously unrecognized deferred tax asset is also reviewed at the end of each reporting period and recognized to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profit will allow the deferred tax asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax liabilities and assets are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liabilities are settled or the assets are realized, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period. The measurement of deferred tax liabilities and assets reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Group expects, at the end of the reporting period, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

3) Current and deferred taxes for the year

Current and deferred taxes are recognized in profit or loss, except when they relate to items that are recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity; in which case, the current and deferred taxes are also recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively.

5. CRITICAL ACCOUNTING JUDGMENTS AND KEY SOURCES OF ESTIMATION UNCERTAINTY

In the application of the Group's accounting policies, management is required to make judgments, estimates and assumptions about the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered relevant. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The Group considers the economic implications of the COVID-19 when making its critical accounting estimates. The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimates are revised if the revisions affect only that period or in the period of the revisions and future periods if the revisions affect both current and future periods.

Key Sources of Estimation Uncertainty

Impairment assessment of property, plant and equipment

In the process of assessing impairment, the Group relies on subjective judgment to determine whether the specific group of assets have indications of impairment, according to the usage of the assets and the business' characteristics. Alteration of estimates from any change in economic conditions or business strategy may lead to significant future impairment loss.

6. CASH AND CASH EQUIVALENTS

	$ 5,623,314	$ 5,959,862

These investments in equity instruments are not held for trading. Instead, they are held for medium to long-term strategic purposes. Accordingly, the management elected to designate these investments in equity instruments as at FVTOCI as they believe that recognizing short-term fluctuations in these investments' fair value in profit or loss would not be consistent with the Group's strategy of holding these investments for long-term purposes.

9. FINANCIAL ASSETS AT AMORTIZED COST

	December 31
	2020	2019

Time deposits with original maturities of more than 3 months (a)	$ -	$ 462,298

Refer to Note 29 for information relating to financial assets at amortized cost as security.

Less: Allowance for impairment loss	(4,627)	(3,904)
	$ 1,021,644	$ 743,278

The Group applies for expected credit losses, which permits the use of lifetime expected loss provision for all notes receivable and trade receivables. The expected credit losses on notes receivable and trade receivables are estimated using a past default experience of the debtor and an analysis of the debtor's current financial position, adjusted for general economic conditions of the industry in which the debtors operate and an assessment of both the current as well as the forecasted direction of economic conditions at the reporting date.

The following table details the loss allowance of notes receivable and trade receivables.

December 31, 2020

	0 to 60 Days	61 to 90 Days	91 to 120 Days	121 to 150 Days	Total

21. RETIREMENT BENEFIT PLANS

a. Defined contribution plans

The Corporation of the Group adopted a pension plan under the Labor Pension Act (the “LPA”), which is a state-managed defined contribution plan. Under the LPA, an entity makes monthly contributions to employees’ individual pension accounts at 6% of monthly salaries and wages.

The employees of the Group’s subsidiary in China are members of a state-managed retirement benefit plan operated by the government of China. The subsidiary is required to contribute a specified percentage of payroll costs to the retirement benefit scheme to fund the benefits. The only obligation of the Group with respect to the retirement benefit plan is to make the specified contributions.

The subsidiary, TFIC, has not set up a retirement benefit plan because it is served concurrently by the employees of the Corporation.

b. Defined benefit plan

The defined benefit plan adopted by the Corporation of the Group in accordance with the Labor Standards Law is operated by the government of the ROC. Pension benefits are calculated on the basis of the length of service and average monthly salaries of the 6 months before retirement. The Corporation contribute amounts equal to 10% of total monthly salaries and wages to a pension fund administered by the pension fund monitoring committee. Pension contributions are deposited in the Bank of Taiwan in the committee’s name. Before the end of each year, the Group assesses the balance in the pension fund. If the amount of the balance in the pension fund is inadequate to pay retirement benefits for employees who conform to retirement requirements in the next year, the Group is required to fund the difference in one appropriation that should be made before the end of March of the next year. The pension fund is managed by the Bureau of Labor Funds, Ministry of Labor (“the Bureau”); the Group has no right to influence the investment policy and strategy.

The amounts included in the consolidated balance sheets in respect of the Group's defined benefit plans were as follows:

Through the defined benefit plans under the Labor Standards Law, the Corporation is exposed to the following risks:

- 1) Investment risk: The plan assets are invested in domestic and foreign equity and debt securities, bank deposits, etc. The investment is conducted at the discretion of the Bureau or under the mandated management. However, in accordance with relevant regulations, the return generated by plan assets should not be below the interest rate for a 2-year time deposit with local banks.
- 2) Interest risk: A decrease in the corporate bond interest rate will increase the present value of the defined benefit obligation; however, this will be partially offset by an increase in the return on the plan's debt investments.
- 3) Salary risk: The present value of the defined benefit obligation is calculated by reference to the future salaries of plan participants. As such, an increase in the salary of the plan participants will increase the present value of the defined benefit obligation.

The actuarial valuations of the present value of the defined benefit obligation were carried out by qualified actuaries. The significant assumptions used for the purposes of the actuarial valuations were as follows:

	December 31
	2020	2019
Discount rate(s)	0.50%	0.75%
Expected rate(s) of long - term salary increase	2.00%	2.00%

If possible reasonable change in each of the significant actuarial assumptions will occur and all other assumptions will remain constant, the present value of the defined benefit obligation would increase (decrease) as follows:

	December 31
	2020	2019
Discount rate(s)
0.25% increase	$ (8,855)	$ (9,622)
0.25% decrease	$ 9,203	$ 10,000
Expected rate(s) of long-term salary increase
0.25% increase	$ 8,901	$ 9,700
0.25% decrease	$ (8,612)	$ (9,384)

The sensitivity analysis presented above may not be representative of the actual change in the present value of the defined benefit obligation as it is unlikely that the change in assumptions would occur in isolation of one another as some of the assumptions may be correlated.

Where there is still balance, 10% of the unappropriated earnings from the yearly net income coupled with other items that recognized in retained earning directly thereof shall be set aside by the Corporation as legal reserve. For the purposes of improving the financial structure effectively, coping with reinvestment, expanding capacity or other significant capital expenditures in which capital is required, when distributing stockholders' dividend, the dividend payout ratio each fiscal year shall be no less than 50% of the final surplus which is the sum of after-tax profit of the fiscal year to offset previous loss, if any, and to appropriate legal reserve and special reserve as required by law; the amount of cash dividends shall not be less than 10% of the total dividends and bonuses to be distributed to stockholders in the fiscal year.

An appropriation of earnings to a legal reserve shall be made until the legal reserve equals the Corporation's paid-in capital. The legal reserve may be used to offset deficits. If the Corporation has no deficit and the legal reserve has exceeded 25% of the Corporation's paid-in capital, the excess may be transferred to capital or distributed in cash.

Items referred to under Rule No. 1010012865, Rule No. 1010047490 and Rule No. 1030006415 issued by the FSC and the directive titled "Questions and Answers for Special Reserves Appropriated Following Adoption of IFRSs", shall be appropriated to or reversed from a special reserve by the Corporation. In July 2019, the president of the ROC announced the amendments to the Statute for Industrial Innovation, which stipulate that the amounts of unappropriated earnings in 2018 and thereafter that are reinvested in the construction or purchase of certain assets or technologies are allowed as deduction when computing the income tax on unappropriated earnings. When calculating the tax on unappropriated earnings, the Group deducts only the amount of the unappropriated earnings that has been reinvested in capital expenditure.

In accordance with Rule No. 10904550440 issued by the Ministry of Finance of Taiwan (MOF), the Group used the losses incurred in the first quarter of 2020 to estimate losses for the first six months of 2020 and this amount is deducted from the Group's unappropriated earnings for 2018 for filing the additional tax. For the 2020 consolidated financial reporting purpose, the tax on unappropriated earnings for 2018 is measured based on the actual loss for 2020, and the current income tax payable is adjusted accordingly.

Because of net loss for the year ended December 31, 2020, there is no potential income tax consequence of the unappropriated earnings.

2) Valuation techniques and assumptions applied for the purpose of measuring fair value

- a) The fair value of financial instruments traded in active markets is based on quoted market prices (including beneficiary certificates that went public).
- b) Valuation techniques and inputs applied for Level 3 fair value measurement: The significant and unobservable input parameter for unlisted investments use market-based approach mainly relates to liquidity discount rate. Market-based approach adopts the equity basis multiplier (P/B) of comparable listed companies, the fair price of the Company's stock is calculated after considering the liquidity discount parameter.

d. Financial risk management objectives and policies

The Group's major financial instruments included equity and debt investments, trade receivables, trade payables and borrowings. The Group's Corporate Treasury function provides services to the business, monitors and manages the financial risks relating to the operations of the Group through internal risk evaluation. These risks include market risk (including foreign currency risk, interest rate risk and other price risk), credit risk and liquidity risk.

1) Market risk

The Group's activities exposed it primarily to the financial risks of changes in foreign currency exchange rates and interest rates.

a) Foreign currency risk

The Group had foreign currency sales and purchases, which exposed the Group to foreign currency risk. To protect against reductions foreign assets in value and the volatility of future cash flows caused by changes in foreign exchange rates, the Group managed the risk by balancing positions of assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies.

The carrying amounts of the Group's foreign currency denominated monetary assets and monetary liabilities and of the derivatives exposed to foreign currency risk at the end of the reporting period are set out in Note 32.

Sensitivity analysis

The Group was mainly exposed to the USD and RMB.

The following details the effects of a 5% increase in NTD (the functional currency) against the relevant foreign currencies. For a 5% strengthening of NTD against the relevant currency, the net loss would be decrease by $37,729 thousand and $23,896 thousand for the years ended December 31, 2020 and 2019, respectively. The sensitivity rate used when reporting foreign currency risk internally to key management personnel and representing management's assessment of the reasonably possible change in foreign exchange rate is 5%.

b) Interest rate risk

The Group was exposed to interest rate risk because entities in the Group borrowed funds at both fixed and floating interest rates. The risk is managed by the Group by maintaining an appropriate mix of fixed and floating rate borrowings, ensuring the most cost-effective hedging strategies are applied.

The carrying amount of the Group's financial assets and financial liabilities with exposure to interest rates at the end of the reporting period were as follows:

	December 31
	2020	2019
Fair value interest rate risk
Financial assets	$ 1,176,712	$ 1,902,930
Financial liabilities	13,850,455	12,987,893
Cash flow interest rate risk
Financial assets	1,555,624	1,682,573
Financial liabilities	2,300,000	4,100,000

Sensitivity analysis

The sensitivity analyses below were determined based on the Group's exposure to interest rates at the end of the reporting period. A 50 basis point increase or decrease was used when reporting interest rate risk internally to key management personnel and represents management's assessment of the reasonably possible change in interest rates.

If interest rates had been 50 basis points higher/lower and all other variables were held constant, the Group's net loss for the years ended December 31, 2020 and 2019 would increase/decrease by $3,722 thousand and $12,087 thousand, respectively, which was mainly attributable to the Group's exposure to interest rates on its cash flow by variable-rate bank loans.

c) Other price risk

The Group was exposed to equity price risk through its investments in listed equity securities and beneficiary certificates of open-end funds.

Sensitivity analysis

The sensitivity analyses below were determined based on the exposure to equity price risks at the end of the reporting period.

If equity prices had been 5% higher/lower, pre-tax loss for the years ended December 31, 2020 and 2019 would have decreased/increased by $2,974 thousand and $7,217 thousand, respectively, as a result of the changes in fair value of financial assets at FVTPL, and the pre-tax other comprehensive income (loss) for the years ended December 31, 2020 and 2019 would have increased/decreased by $74,051 thousand and $78,155 thousand, respectively, as a result of the changes in fair value of financial assets at FVTOCI.

2) Credit risk

Credit risk refers to the risk that counterparty will default on its contractual obligations resulting in financial loss to the Group. As at the end of the reporting period, the Group's maximum exposure to credit risk which will cause a financial loss to the Group due to failure of counterparties to discharge an obligation and financial guarantees provided by the Group could arise from:

- a) The carrying amount of the respective recognized financial assets as stated in the balance sheets; and
- b) The amount of contingent liabilities in relation to financial guarantee issued by the Group.

The Group adopted a policy of only dealing with creditworthy counterparties and obtaining sufficient collateral, where appropriate, as a means of mitigating the risk of financial loss from defaults. The Group only transacts with entities that are rated good. The Group uses other publicly available financial information and its own trading records to rate its major customers. The Group's exposure and the credit ratings of its counterparties are continuously monitored and the aggregate value of transactions concluded is spread amongst approved counterparties. Credit exposure is controlled by counterparty limits that are reviewed and approved by the credit organization.

Trade receivables consisted of a large number of unrelated customers. Ongoing credit evaluation is performed on the financial condition of trade receivables.

Credit risk represents the potential impact to financial asset that the Group might encounter if counterparties or third parties breach the contracts. The Group evaluated credit risk exposure for contracts with positive carrying value. The Group evaluated the credit risk exposure as immaterial because all counterparties are reputable financial institutions and companies with credit ratings.

3) Liquidity risk

The Group manages liquidity risk by monitoring and maintaining a level of cash and cash equivalents deemed adequate to finance the Group's operations and mitigate the effects of fluctuations in cash flows. In addition, management monitors the utilization of bank borrowings and ensures compliance with loan covenants.

The Group relies on bank borrowings as a significant source of liquidity. As of December 31, 2020 and 2019, the Group had available unutilized bank loan facilities set out in (b) below.

a) Liquidity and interest risk rate tables

The following table details the Group's remaining contractual maturity for its non-derivative financial liabilities with agreed repayment periods. The tables had been drawn up based on the undiscounted cash flows of financial liabilities from the earliest date on which the Group can be required to pay.

2020 Independent Auditors’ Report

(English Translation of a Report Originally Issued in Chinese)

The Board of Directors and Stockholders
Oriental Union Chemical Corporation

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Oriental Union Chemical Corporation (the “Corporation”), which comprise the balance sheets as of December 31, 2020 and 2019, and the statements of comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows for the years then ended, and the notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies (collectively referred to as the “financial statements”).

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Corporation as of December 31, 2020 and 2019, and its financial performance and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Regulations Governing Auditing and Attestation of Financial Statements by Certified Public Accountants and auditing standards generally accepted in the Republic of China (“ROC”). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors’ Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Corporation in accordance with The Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the ROC, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2020. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

The descriptions of the key audit matters of the financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2020 are as follow:

The Impairment Loss of Property, Plant and Equipment

The balances of property, plant and equipment amounted to $5,563,410 thousand as of December 31, 2020. On each balance sheet date, the Corporation reviews its tangible assets for indications of impairment. If any indication thereof exists, the Corporation then estimates the recoverable amount of the assets. If it is not possible to determine the recoverable amount (fair value less cost to sell and value in use) for the individual asset, then the Corporation will determine the recoverable amount for the asset's cash-generating unit. Because the aforementioned tangible assets represent 25% of total assets and the calculation for recoverable amount involves several assumptions and estimations, which directly impact the amount recognized as impairment losses, we deem the review of impairment of assets a key audit matter.

Corresponding audit procedures:

1. We obtained an understanding of management's estimation of asset impairment and of the design and execution for relevant controls.
2. We evaluated the rationality of management's identification of impairment indicators and the appropriateness of the assumptions. Given that there are impairment indications, we performed:
 - a. Obtained the asset impairment valuation form produced by the management for each cash-generating unit.
 - b. Consulted Deloitte firm internal experts regarding the appropriateness of the assumptions, including the classification of cash-generating units, forecast of cash flows, and discount rate.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Corporation's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Corporation or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance, including the audit committee, are responsible for overseeing the Corporation's financial reporting process.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the ROC will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the ROC, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

1. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
2. Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Corporation's internal control.
3. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
4. Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Corporation's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Corporation to cease to continue as a going concern.
5. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
6. Obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of entities or business activities within the Corporation to express an opinion on the financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision, and performance of the Corporation audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2020 and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partners on the audit resulting in this independent auditors' report are Hsin-Wei Tai and Yu-Wei Fan.

4. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

a. Statement of compliance

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers.

b. Basis of preparation

The financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis except for financial instruments measured at fair value, and net defined benefit liabilities measured at the present value of the defined benefit obligation less the fair value of plan assets.

The fair value measurements, which are grouped into Levels 1 to 3 based on the degree to which the fair value measurement inputs are observable and based on the significance of the inputs to the fair value measurement in its entirety, are described as follows:

- 1) Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;
- 2) Level 2 inputs are inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for an asset or liability, either directly (i.e., as prices) or indirectly (i.e., derived from prices); and
- 3) Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for an asset or liability.

When preparing these parent Corporation only financial statements, the Corporation used the equity method to account for its investments in subsidiaries and associates. In order for the amounts of the net profit for the year, other comprehensive income for the year and total equity in the parent Corporation only financial statements to be the same with the amounts attributable to the owners of the Corporation in its consolidated financial statements, adjustments arising from the differences in accounting treatments between the parent Corporation only basis and the consolidated basis were made to investments accounted for using the equity method, the share of profit or loss of subsidiaries and associates, the share of other comprehensive income of subsidiaries and associates and the related equity items, as appropriate, in these parent Corporation only financial statements.

c. Classification of current and non-current assets and liabilities

Current assets include:

- 1) Assets held primarily for the purpose of trading;
- 2) Assets expected to be realized within 12 months after the reporting period; and
- 3) Cash and cash equivalents unless the asset is restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least 12 months after the reporting period.

Current liabilities include:

- 1) Liabilities held primarily for the purpose of trading;
- 2) Liabilities due to be settled within 12 months after the reporting period, even if an agreement to refinance, or to reschedule payments, on a long-term basis is completed after the reporting period and before the financial statements are authorized for issue; and
- 3) Liabilities for which the Corporation does not have an unconditional right to defer settlement for at least 12 months after the reporting period.

Assets and liabilities that are not classified as current are classified as non-current.

d. Foreign currencies

In preparing the Corporation's financial statements, transactions in currencies other than the Corporation's functional currency (i.e., foreign currencies) are recognized at the rates of exchange prevailing at the dates of the transactions.

At the end of each reporting period, monetary items denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing at that date. Exchange differences on monetary items arising from settlement or translation are recognized in profit or loss in the period.

Non-monetary items denominated in foreign currencies that are measured at fair value are retranslated at the rates prevailing at the date when the fair value is determined. Exchange differences arising from the retranslation of non-monetary items are included in profit or loss for the period except for exchange differences arising from the retranslation of non-monetary items in respect of which gains and losses are recognized directly in other comprehensive income; in which cases, the exchange differences are also recognized directly in other comprehensive income.

Non-monetary item denominated in a foreign currency and measured at historical cost is stated at the reporting currency as originally translated from the foreign currency.

For the purpose of presenting financial statements, the financial statements of the Corporation and its foreign operations (including subsidiaries and associates in other countries) that are prepared using functional currencies which are different from the currency of the Corporation are translated into the presentation currency, the New Taiwan dollar, as follows: Assets and liabilities are translated at the exchange rates prevailing at the end of the reporting period; and income and expense items are translated at the average exchange rates for the period. The resulting currency translation differences are recognized in other comprehensive income.

e. Inventories

Inventories consist of raw materials, work in progress and finished goods and are stated at the lower of cost or net realizable value. Inventory write-downs are made by item, except where it may be appropriate to group similar or related items. The net realizable value is the estimated selling price of inventories less all estimated costs of completion and costs necessary to make the sale. Inventories are recorded at the weighted-average cost on the balance sheet date.

f. Investments in subsidiaries and associates

1) Investments in subsidiaries

The Corporation uses the equity method to account for its investments in subsidiaries.

A subsidiary is an entity controlled by the Corporation.

Under the equity method, an investment in a subsidiary is initially recognized at cost and adjusted thereafter to recognize the Corporation's share of the profit or loss and other comprehensive income of the subsidiary. The Corporation also recognizes the changes in the Corporation's share of equity of subsidiaries.

Changes in the Corporation's ownership interest in a subsidiary that do not result in the Corporation losing control of the subsidiary are equity transactions. The Corporation recognizes directly in equity any difference between the carrying amount of the investment and the fair value of the consideration paid or received.

When the Corporation's share of losses of a subsidiary exceeds its interest in that subsidiary, the Corporation continues recognizing its share of further losses.

Any excess of the cost of acquisition over the Corporation's share of the net fair value of the identifiable assets and liabilities of a subsidiary that constitutes a business at the date of acquisition is recognized as goodwill, which is included within the carrying amount of the investment and is not amortized. Any excess of the Corporation's share of the net fair value of the identifiable assets and liabilities of a subsidiary that constitutes a business over the cost of acquisition is recognized immediately in profit or loss.

The Corporation assesses its investment for any impairment by comparing the carrying amount with the estimated recoverable amount as assessed based on the investee's financial statements as a whole. Impairment loss is recognized when the carrying amount exceeds the recoverable amount. If the recoverable amount of the investment subsequently increases, the Corporation recognizes a reversal of the impairment loss; the adjusted post-reversal carrying amount should not exceed the carrying amount that would have been recognized (net of amortization) had no impairment loss been recognized in prior years. An impairment loss recognized on goodwill cannot be reversed in a subsequent period.

When the Corporation loses control of a subsidiary, it recognizes the investment retained in the former subsidiary at its fair value at the date when control is lost. The difference between the fair value of the retained investment plus any consideration received and the carrying amount of the previous investment at the date when control is lost is recognized as a gain or loss in profit or loss. Besides this, the Corporation accounts for all amounts previously recognized in other comprehensive income in relation to that subsidiary on the same basis as would be required if the Corporation had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities.

Profits or losses resulting from downstream transactions are eliminated in full only in the parent Corporation's financial statements. Profits and losses resulting from upstream transactions and transactions between subsidiaries are recognized only in the parent Corporation's financial statements only to the extent of interests in the subsidiaries that are not related to the Corporation.

2) Investments in associates

An associate is an entity over which the Corporation has significant influence and which is not a subsidiary. The Corporation uses the equity method to account for its investments in associates.

Under the equity method, investments in an associate is initially recognized at cost and adjusted thereafter to recognize the Corporation's share of the profit or loss and other comprehensive income of the associate. The Corporation also recognizes the changes in the Corporation's share of the equity of associates.

When the Corporation subscribes for additional new shares of an associate at a percentage different from its existing ownership percentage, the resulting carrying amount of the investment differs from the amount of the Corporation's proportionate interest in the associate. The Corporation records such a difference as an adjustment to investments with the corresponding amount charged or credited to capital surplus - changes in capital surplus from investments in associates accounted for using the equity method. If the Corporation's ownership interest is reduced due to its additional subscription of the new shares of the associate, the proportionate amount of the gains or losses previously recognized in other comprehensive income in relation to that associate is reclassified to profit or loss on the same basis as would be required if the investee had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities. When the adjustment should be debited to capital surplus, but the capital surplus recognized from investments accounted for using the equity method is insufficient, the shortage is debited to retained earnings.

When the Corporation's share of losses of an associate equals or exceeds its interest in that associate, the Corporation discontinues recognizing its share of further losses. Additional losses and liabilities are recognized only to the extent that the Corporation has incurred legal obligations, or constructive obligations, or made payments on behalf of that associate.

The entire carrying amount of an investment is tested for impairment as a single asset by comparing its recoverable amount with its carrying amount. Any impairment loss recognized is not allocated to any asset that forms part of the carrying amount of the investment. Any reversal of that impairment loss is recognized to the extent that the recoverable amount of the investment subsequently increases.

The Corporation discontinues the use of the equity method from the date on which its investment ceases to be an associate. Any retained investment is measured at fair value at that date, and the fair value is regarded as the investment's fair value on initial recognition as a financial asset. The difference between the previous carrying amount of the associate attributable to the retained interest and its fair value is included in the determination of the gain or loss on disposal of the associate. The Corporation accounts for all amounts previously recognized in other comprehensive income in relation to that associate on the same basis as would be required had that associates directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities.

When a group entity transacts with its associate, profits and losses resulting from the transactions with the associate are recognized in the Corporation's financial statements only to the extent that interests in the associate are not related to the Corporation.

g. Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment loss.

Property, plant and equipment in the course of construction are measured at cost less any recognized impairment loss. Cost includes professional fees and borrowing costs eligible for capitalization. Such assets are depreciated and classified to the appropriate categories of property, plant and equipment when completed and ready for their intended use.

Depreciation of property, plant and equipment is recognized using the straight-line method. Each significant part is depreciated separately. The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation methods are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effects of any changes in the estimates accounted for on a prospective basis.

On derecognition of an item of property, plant and equipment, the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset is recognized in profit or loss.

h. Investment properties

Investment properties are properties held to earn rentals and/or for capital appreciation. Investment properties also include land held for a currently undetermined future use.

Investment properties are initially measured at cost, including transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, investment properties are measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment loss. Depreciation is recognized using the straight-line method.

On derecognition of an investment property, the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset is included in profit or loss.

i. Intangible assets

Intangible assets with finite useful lives that are acquired separately are initially measured at cost and subsequently measured at cost less accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment loss. Amortization is recognized on a straight-line basis. The estimated useful lives, residual values, and amortization methods are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in the estimates accounted for on a prospective basis.

On derecognition of an intangible asset, the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset is recognized in profit or loss.

j. Impairment of property, plant and equipment, right-of-use asset and intangible assets

At the end of each reporting period, the Corporation reviews the carrying amounts of its property, plant and equipment, right-of-use asset and intangible assets, to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss. When it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the Corporation estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs.

The recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs to sell and value in use. If the recoverable amount of an asset or cash-generating unit is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset or cash-generating unit is reduced to its recoverable amount, with the resulting impairment loss recognized in profit or loss.

When an impairment loss is subsequently reversed, the carrying amount of the corresponding asset or cash-generating unit is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but only to the extent of the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset or cash-generating unit in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognized in profit or loss.

k. Financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognized when the Corporation becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instruments.

Financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issuance of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets and financial liabilities at FVTPL) are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition. Transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets or financial liabilities at FVTPL are recognized immediately in profit or loss.

1) Financial assets

All regular way purchases or sales of financial assets are recognized and derecognized on a trade date basis.

a) Measurement categories

Financial assets are classified into the following categories: Financial assets at FVTPL, financial assets at amortized cost and investments in equity instruments at FVTOCI.

i. Financial assets at FVTPL

Financial assets are classified as at FVTPL when such financial assets are mandatorily classified as at FVTPL. Financial assets mandatorily classified as at FVTPL include investments in equity instruments which are not designated as at FVTOCI.

Financial assets at FVTPL are subsequently measured at fair value, with any gains or losses arising on remeasurement recognized in profit or loss. The net gain or loss recognized in profit or loss incorporates any dividends or interest earned on such a financial asset. Fair value is determined in the manner described in Note 26.

ii. Financial assets at amortized cost

Financial assets that meet the following conditions are subsequently measured at amortized cost:

- i) The financial assets are held within a business model whose objective is to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows; and
- ii) The contractual terms of the financial assets give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Subsequent to initial recognition, financial assets at amortized cost, including cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables and other receivables, are measured at amortized cost, which equals the gross carrying amount determined using the effective interest method less any impairment loss. Exchange differences are recognized in profit or loss.

Interest income is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of such a financial asset, except for:

- i) Purchased or originated credit-impaired financial assets, for which interest income is calculated by applying the credit adjusted effective interest rate to the amortized cost of such financial assets; and
- ii) Financial assets that are not credit impaired on purchase or origination but have subsequently become credit impaired, for which interest income is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the amortized cost of such financial assets in subsequent reporting periods.

A financial asset is credit impaired when one or more of the following events have occurred:

- i) Significant financial difficulty of the issuer or the borrower;
- ii) Breach of contract, such as a default;
- iii) It is becoming probable that the borrower will enter bankruptcy or undergo a financial reorganization; or
- iv) The disappearance of an active market for that financial asset because of financial difficulties.

Cash equivalents include time deposits and repurchase agreements collateralized by bonds with original maturities within 3 months from the date of acquisition, which are highly liquid, readily convertible to a known amount of cash and are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value. These cash equivalents are held for the purpose of meeting short-term cash commitments.

iii. Investments in equity instruments at FVTOCI

On initial recognition, the Corporation may make an irrevocable election to designate investments in equity instruments as at FVTOCI. Designation as at FVTOCI is not permitted if the equity investment is held for trading or if it is contingent consideration recognized by an acquirer in a business combination.

Investments in equity instruments at FVTOCI are subsequently measured at fair value with gains and losses arising from changes in fair value recognized in other comprehensive income and accumulated in other equity. The cumulative gain or loss will not be reclassified to profit or loss on disposal of the equity investments; instead, it will be transferred to retained earnings.

Dividends on these investments in equity instruments are recognized in profit or loss when the Corporation's right to receive the dividends is established, unless the dividends clearly represent a recovery of part of the cost of the investment.

b) Impairment of financial assets

The Corporation recognizes a loss allowance for expected credit losses on financial assets at amortized cost (including trade receivables).

The Corporation always recognizes lifetime expected credit losses (ECLs) for trade receivables. For all other financial instruments, the Corporation recognizes lifetime ECLs when there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition. If, on the other hand, the credit risk on a financial instrument has not increased significantly since initial recognition, the Corporation measures the loss allowance for that financial instrument at an amount equal to 12-month ECLs.

Expected credit losses reflect the weighted average of credit losses with the respective risks of default occurring as the weights. Lifetime ECLs represent the expected credit losses that will result from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument. In contrast, 12-month ECLs represent the portion of lifetime ECLs that is expected to result from default events on a financial instrument that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date.

For internal credit risk management purposes, the Corporation considers the following situations as indication that a financial asset is in default (without taking into account any collateral held by the Corporation):

- i. Internal or external information shows that the debtor is unlikely to pay its creditors.
- ii. Financial asset is overdue unless the Corporation has reasonable and corroborative information to support a more lagged default criterion.

The impairment loss of all financial assets is recognized in profit or loss by a reduction in their carrying amounts through a loss allowance account.

c) Derecognition of financial assets

The Corporation derecognizes a financial asset only when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire or when it transfers the financial asset and substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset to another party.

On derecognition of a financial asset at amortized cost in its entirety, the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the sum of the consideration received and receivable is recognized in profit or loss. On derecognition of an investment in an equity instrument at FVTOCI, the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the sum of the consideration received and receivable is recognized in profit or loss, and the cumulative gain or loss which had been recognized in other comprehensive income is transferred directly to retained earnings, without recycling through profit or loss.

2) Financial liabilities

a) Subsequent measurement

All financial liabilities are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method.

b) Derecognition of financial liabilities

The difference between the carrying amount of a financial liability derecognized and the consideration paid, including any non-cash assets transferred or liabilities assumed, is recognized in profit or loss.

1. Revenue recognition

Revenue from the sale of goods and rendering of services

The Corporation identifies contracts with customers, allocates the transaction price to the performance obligations and recognizes revenue when performance obligations are satisfied.

For contracts where the period between the date on which the Corporation transfers a promised good or service to a customer and the date on which the customer pays for that good or service is one year or less, the Corporation does not adjust the promised amount of consideration for the effects of a significant financing component.

When another party is involved in providing goods or services to a customer, the Corporation recognizes revenue in the gross amount if it controls each specified good or service before that good or service is transferred to the customer (the Corporation is a principal); otherwise, the Corporation recognizes revenue in the net amount (the Corporation is an agent).

A specified good or service is a distinct good or service, the Corporation determines whether it is a principal or an agent for each specified good or service.

The Corporation is a principal if it meets any one of the following conditions:

- 1) The Corporation obtains control of a good or service from the other party before the Corporation transfers the good or service to a customer.
- 2) The Corporation has a right to a service to be performed by the other party, which gives the entity the ability to direct that party to provide the service to the customer on the entity's behalf.
- 3) The Corporation obtains control of a good or service from the other party that it then combines with other goods or services in providing the specified good or service to the customer.

Indicators that are used to determine whether the Corporation controls the specified good or service before it is transferred to the customer include, but are not limited to, the following:

- 1) The Corporation is primarily responsible for fulfilling the promise to provide the specified good or service.

- 2) The Corporation has inventory risk before and after the specified good or service has been transferred to a customer or after transfer of control to the customer.
- 3) The Corporation has discretion in establishing the price for the specified good or service.

m. Leases

At the inception of a contract, the Corporation assesses whether the contract is, or contains, a lease.

1) The Corporation as lessor

Lease payments from operating leases are recognized as income on a straight-line basis over the terms of the relevant leases.

2) The Corporation as lessee

The Corporation recognizes right-of-use assets and lease liabilities for all leases at the commencement date of a lease, except for short-term leases and low-value asset leases accounted for applying a recognition exemption where lease payments are recognized as expenses on a straight-line basis over the lease terms.

Right-of-use assets are initially measured at cost. Right-of-use assets are subsequently measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses and adjusted for any remeasurement of the lease liabilities. Right-of-use assets are presented on a separate line in the balance sheets.

Right-of-use assets are depreciated using the straight-line method from the commencement dates to the earlier of the end of the useful lives of the right-of-use assets or the end of the lease terms.

Lease liabilities are initially measured at the present value of the lease payments. The lease payments are discounted using the interest rate implicit in a lease, if that rate can be readily determined. If that rate cannot be readily determined, the lessee's incremental borrowing rate will be used.

Subsequently, lease liabilities are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method, with interest expense recognized over the lease terms. When there is a change in future lease payments, the Corporation remeasures the lease liabilities with a corresponding adjustment to the right-of-use-assets. However, if the carrying amount of the right-of-use assets is reduced to zero, any remaining amount of the remeasurement is recognized in profit or loss. Lease liabilities are presented on a separate line in the balance sheets.

n. Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to an acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets are added to the cost of those assets, until such time as the assets are substantially ready for their intended use or sale.

Investment income earned on the temporary investment of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on qualifying assets is deducted from the borrowing costs eligible for capitalization.

Other than those stated above, all other borrowing costs are recognized in profit or loss in the period in which they are incurred.

o. Employee benefits

1) Short-term employee benefits

Liabilities recognized in respect of short-term employee benefits are measured at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid in exchange for the related services.

2) Retirement benefits

Payments to defined contribution retirement benefit plans are recognized as expenses when employees have rendered services entitling them to the contributions.

Defined benefit costs (including service cost, net interest and rereasurement) under defined benefit retirement benefit plans are determined using the projected unit credit method. Service cost (including current service cost, and net interest on the net defined benefit liabilities (assets)) are recognized as employee benefits expense in the period in which they occur. Rereasurement, comprising actuarial gains and losses, and the return on plan assets (excluding interest), is recognized in other comprehensive income in the period in which it occurs. Rereasurement recognized in other comprehensive income is reflected immediately in retained earnings and will not be reclassified to profit or loss.

Net defined benefit liabilities (assets) represent the actual deficit (surplus) in the Corporation's defined benefit plans. Any surplus resulting from this calculation is limited to the present value of any refunds from the plans or reductions in future contributions to the plans.

p. Taxation

Income tax expense represents the sum of the tax currently payable and deferred tax.

1) Current tax

Income tax payable (recoverable) is based on taxable profit (loss) for the year determined according to the applicable tax laws of each tax jurisdiction.

According to the Income Tax Law in the ROC, an additional tax of unappropriated earnings is provided for as income tax in the year the shareholders approve to retain earnings.

Adjustments of prior years' tax liabilities are added to or deducted from the current year's tax provision.

2) Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognized on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit.

Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognized for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are generally recognized for all deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which those deductible temporary differences can be utilized.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognized for taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries and associates, except where the Corporation is able to control the reversal of the temporary difference and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future. Deferred tax assets arising from deductible temporary differences associated with such investments are only recognized to the extent that it is probable that there will be sufficient taxable profits against which to utilize the benefits of the temporary differences and such temporary differences are expected to reverse in the foreseeable future.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the assets to be recovered. A previously unrecognized deferred tax asset is also reviewed at the end of each reporting period and recognized to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profit will allow the deferred tax asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax liabilities and assets are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liabilities are settled or the assets are realized, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period. The measurement of deferred tax liabilities and assets reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Corporation expects, at the end of the reporting period, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

3) Current and deferred taxes for the year

Current and deferred taxes are recognized in profit or loss, except when they relate to items that are recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity; in which case, the current and deferred taxes are also recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively.

5. CRITICAL ACCOUNTING JUDGMENTS AND KEY SOURCES OF ESTIMATION UNCERTAINTY

In the application of the Corporation's accounting policies, management is required to make judgments, estimates and assumptions about the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered relevant. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The Corporation considers the economic implications of the COVID-19 when making its critical accounting estimates. The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimates are revised if the revisions affect only that period or in the period of the revisions and future periods if the revisions affect both current and future periods.

Key Sources of Estimation Uncertainty

Impairment assessment of property, plant and equipment

In the process of assessing impairment, the Corporation relies on subjective judgment to determine whether the specific group of assets have indications of impairment, according to the usage of the assets and the business' characteristics. Alteration of estimates from any change in economic conditions or business strategy may lead to significant future impairment loss.

These investments in equity instruments are not held for trading. Instead, they are held for medium to long-term strategic purposes. Accordingly, the management elected to designate these investments in equity instruments as at FVTOCI as they believe that recognizing short-term fluctuations in these investments' fair value in profit or loss would not be consistent with the Corporation's strategy of holding these investments for long-term purposes.

The Corporation applies for expected credit losses, which permits the use of lifetime expected loss provision for all notes receivable and trade receivables. The expected credit losses on notes receivable and trade receivables are estimated using a past default experience of the debtor and an analysis of the debtor's current financial position, adjusted for general economic conditions of the industry in which the debtors operate and an assessment of both the current as well as the forecasted direction of economic conditions at the reporting date.

The following table details the loss allowance of notes receivable and trade receivables.

20. RETIREMENT BENEFIT PLANS

a. Defined contribution plans

The Corporation adopted a pension plan under the Labor Pension Act (the "LPA"), which is a state-managed defined contribution plan. Under the LPA, an entity makes monthly contributions to employees' individual pension accounts at 6% of monthly salaries and wages.

b. Defined benefit plan

The defined benefit plan adopted by the Corporation in accordance with the Labor Standards Law is operated by the government of the ROC. Pension benefits are calculated on the basis of the length of service and average monthly salaries of the 6 months before retirement. The Corporation contribute amounts equal to 10% of total monthly salaries and wages to a pension fund administered by the pension fund monitoring committee. Pension contributions are deposited in the Bank of Taiwan in the committee's name. Before the end of each year, the Corporation assesses the balance in the pension fund. If the amount of the balance in the pension fund is inadequate to pay retirement benefits for employees who conform to retirement requirements in the next year, the Corporation is required to fund the difference in one appropriation that should be made before the end of March of the next year. The pension fund is managed by the Bureau of Labor Funds, Ministry of Labor ("the Bureau"); the Corporation has no right to influence the investment policy and strategy.

The amounts included in the balance sheets in respect of the Corporation's defined benefit plans were as follows:

Through the defined benefit plans under the Labor Standards Law, the Corporation is exposed to the following risks:

- 1) Investment risk: The plan assets are invested in domestic and foreign equity and debt securities, bank deposits, etc. The investment is conducted at the discretion of the Bureau or under the mandated management. However, in accordance with relevant regulations, the return generated by plan assets should not be below the interest rate for a 2-year time deposit with local banks.
- 2) Interest risk: A decrease in the corporate bond interest rate will increase the present value of the defined benefit obligation; however, this will be partially offset by an increase in the return on the plan's debt investments.
- 3) Salary risk: The present value of the defined benefit obligation is calculated by reference to the future salaries of plan participants. As such, an increase in the salary of the plan participants will increase the present value of the defined benefit obligation.

The actuarial valuations of the present value of the defined benefit obligation were carried out by qualified actuaries. The significant assumptions used for the purposes of the actuarial valuations were as follows:

	December 31
	2020	2019
Discount rate(s)	0.50%	0.75%
Expected rate(s) of long-term salary increase	2.00%	2.00%

If possible reasonable change in each of the significant actuarial assumptions will occur and all other assumptions will remain constant, the present value of the defined benefit obligation would increase (decrease) as follows:

	December 31
	2020	2019
Discount rate(s)
0.25% increase	$ (8,855)	$ (9,622)
0.25% decrease	$ 9,203	$ 10,000
Expected rate(s) of long-term salary increase
0.25% increase	$ 8,901	$ 9,700
0.25% decrease	$ (8,612)	$ (9,384)

The sensitivity analysis presented above may not be representative of the actual change in the present value of the defined benefit obligation as it is unlikely that the change in assumptions would occur in isolation of one another as some of the assumptions may be correlated.

	December 31

Where there is still balance, 10% of the unappropriated earnings from the yearly net income coupled with other items that recognized in retained earning directly thereof shall be set aside by the Corporation as legal reserve. Subject to certain business conditions under which the Corporation may retain a portion, and distribute to the shareholders the remainder after deducting special reserve as required by law together with undistributed profits from previous years in proportion to the number of the shares held by each shareholders as shareholders' dividend. In accordance with the Articles, the dividend distribution takes into consideration the characteristics of industry that the Corporation operates in and the forthcoming capital requirement and tax policy that is influenced by the Corporation's products or services, and it should be settled for the purpose of maintaining stable dividends. For the purposes of improving the financial structure effectively, coping with reinvestment, expanding capacity or other significant capital expenditures in which capital is required, when distributing stockholders' dividend, the dividend payout ratio each fiscal year shall be no less than 50% of the final surplus which is the sum of after-tax profit of the fiscal year to offset previous loss, if any, and to appropriate legal reserve and special reserve as required by law; the amount of cash dividends shall not be less than 10% of the total dividends and bonuses to be distributed to stockholders in the fiscal year.

An appropriation of earnings to a legal reserve shall be made until the legal reserve equals the Corporation's paid-in capital. The legal reserve may be used to offset deficits. If the Corporation has no deficit and the legal reserve has exceeded 25% of the Corporation's paid-in capital, the excess may be transferred to capital or distributed in cash.

Items referred to under Rule No. 1010012865, Rule No. 1010047490 and Rule No. 1030006415 issued by the FSC and the directive titled "Questions and Answers for Special Reserves Appropriated Following Adoption of IFRSs", shall be appropriated to or reversed from a special reserve by the Corporation. Any appropriated special reserve may be reversed to the extent that the net debit balance reverses, and thereafter it is distributed.

In July 2019, the president of the ROC announced the amendments to the Statute for Industrial Innovation, which stipulate that the amounts of unappropriated earnings in 2018 and thereafter that are reinvested in the construction or purchase of certain assets or technologies are allowed as deduction when computing the income tax on unappropriated earnings. When calculating the tax on unappropriated earnings, the Corporation deducts only the amount of the unappropriated earnings that has been reinvested in capital expenditure.

In accordance with Rule No. 10904550440 issued by the Ministry of Finance of Taiwan (MOF), the Corporation used the losses incurred in the first quarter of 2020 to estimate losses for the first six months of 2020 and this amount is deducted from the Corporation's unappropriated earnings for 2018 for filing the additional tax. For the 2020 financial reporting purpose, the tax on unappropriated earnings for 2018 is measured based on the actual loss for 2020, and the current income tax payable is adjusted accordingly.

Because of net loss for the year ended December 31, 2020, there is no potential income tax consequence of the unappropriated earnings.

26. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

- a. Fair value of financial instruments that are not measured at fair value

- b) Valuation techniques and inputs applied for Level 3 fair value measurement: The significant and unobservable input parameter for unlisted investments use market-based approach mainly relates to liquidity discount rate. Market-based approach adopts the equity basis multiplier (P/B) of comparable listed companies, the fair price of the Company's stock is calculated after considering the liquidity discount parameter.

d. Financial risk management objectives and policies

The Corporation's major financial instruments included equity and debt investments, trade receivables, trade payables and borrowings. The Corporation's Corporate Treasury function provides services to the business, monitors and manages the financial risks relating to the operations of the Corporation through internal risk evaluation. These risks include market risk (including foreign currency risk, interest rate risk and other price risk), credit risk and liquidity risk.

1) Market risk

The Corporation's activities exposed it primarily to the financial risks of changes in foreign currency exchange rates and interest rates.

a) Foreign currency risk

The Corporation had foreign currency sales and purchases, which exposed the Corporation to foreign currency risk. To protect against reductions foreign assets in value and the volatility of future cash flows caused by changes in foreign exchange rates, the Corporation managed the risk by balancing positions of assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies.

The carrying amounts of the Corporation's foreign currency denominated monetary assets and monetary liabilities and of the derivatives exposed to foreign currency risk at the end of the reporting period are set out in Note 31.

Sensitivity analysis

The Corporation was mainly exposed to the USD and RMB.

The following details the effects of a 5% increase or decrease in NTD (the functional currency) against the relevant foreign currencies. For a 5% strengthening/weakening of NTD against the relevant currency, the net (loss) profit would be increase/decrease of $1,295 thousand and $10,082 thousand for the years ended December 31, 2020 and 2019, respectively. The sensitivity rate used when reporting foreign currency risk internally to key management personnel and representing management's assessment of the reasonably possible change in foreign exchange rate is 5%.

b) Interest rate risk

The Corporation was exposed to interest rate risk because of borrowing funds at both fixed and floating interest rates. The risk is managed by the Corporation by maintaining an appropriate mix of fixed and floating rate borrowings, ensuring the most cost-effective hedging strategies are applied.

The carrying amount of the Corporation's financial assets and financial liabilities with exposure to interest rates at the end of the reporting period were as follows:

	December 31
	2020	2019
Fair value interest rate risk
Financial assets	$ 634,383	$ 1,392,973
Financial liabilities	6,375,233	4,863,915
Cash flow interest rate risk
Financial assets	13,413	36,922
Financial liabilities	2,300,000	4,100,000

Sensitivity analysis

The sensitivity analyses below were determined based on the Corporation's exposure to interest rates at the end of the reporting period. A 50 basis point increase or decrease was used when reporting interest rate risk internally to key management personnel and represents management's assessment of the reasonably possible change in interest rates.

If interest rates had been 50 basis points higher/lower and all other variables were held constant, the Corporation's net (loss) profit for the years ended December 31, 2020 and 2019 would have increased/decreased by $11,433 thousand and decreased/increased by $20,315 thousand, respectively, which was mainly attributable to the Corporation's exposure to interest rates on its cash flow by variable-rate bank loans.

c) Other price risk

The Corporation was exposed to equity price risk through its investments in listed equity securities and beneficiary certificates of open-end funds.

Sensitivity analysis

The sensitivity analyses below were determined based on the exposure to equity price risks at the end of the reporting period.

If equity prices had been 5% higher/lower, pre-tax profit for the year ended December 31, 2019 would have increased/decreased by $3,827 thousand, as a result of the changes in fair value of financial assets at FVTPL, and the pre-tax other comprehensive income (loss) for the years ended December 31, 2020 and 2019 would have increased/decreased by $51,902 thousand and $55,243 thousand, respectively, as a result of the changes in fair value of financial assets at FVTOCI.

2) Credit risk

Credit risk refers to the risk that counterparty will default on its contractual obligations resulting in financial loss to the Corporation. As at the end of the reporting period, the Corporation's maximum exposure to credit risk which will cause a financial loss to the Corporation due to failure of counterparties to discharge an obligation and financial guarantees provided by the Corporation could arise from:

- a) The carrying amount of the respective recognized financial assets as stated in the balance sheets; and
- b) The amount of contingent liabilities in relation to financial guarantee issued by the Corporation.

The Corporation adopted a policy of only dealing with creditworthy counterparties and obtaining sufficient collateral, where appropriate, as a means of mitigating the risk of financial loss from defaults. The Corporation only transacts with entities that are rated good. The Corporation uses other publicly available financial information and its own trading records to rate its major customers. The Corporation's exposure and the credit ratings of its counterparties are continuously monitored and the aggregate value of transactions concluded is spread amongst approved counterparties. Credit exposure is controlled by counterparty limits that are reviewed and approved by the credit organization.

Trade receivables consisted of a large number of unrelated customers. Ongoing credit evaluation is performed on the financial condition of trade receivables.

Credit risk represents the potential impact to financial asset that the Corporation might encounter if counterparties or third parties breach the contracts. The Corporation evaluated credit risk exposure for contracts with positive carrying value. The Corporation evaluated the credit risk exposure as immaterial because all counterparties are reputable financial institutions and companies with credit ratings.

3) Liquidity risk

The Corporation manages liquidity risk by monitoring and maintaining a level of cash and cash equivalents deemed adequate to finance the Corporation's operations and mitigate the effects of fluctuations in cash flows. In addition, management monitors the utilization of bank borrowings and ensures compliance with loan covenants.

The Corporation relies on bank borrowings as a significant source of liquidity. As of December 31, 2020 and 2019, the Corporation had available unutilized bank loan facilities set out in (b) below.

- a) Liquidity and interest risk rate tables

The following table details the Corporation's remaining contractual maturity for its non-derivative financial liabilities with agreed repayment periods. The tables had been drawn up based on the undiscounted cash flows of financial liabilities from the earliest date on which the Corporation can be required to pay.

6. Analysis of risk factors

6.1 Impact of interest and exchange rate changes and inflation for last year, and the future

6.1.1 Looking back the 2020, the global economic growth has slowed down due to the Sino-US trade disputes, rising geopolitical risks and the pandemic COVID-19, coupled with fluctuations in the prices of international oil and raw material, weakening the foreign trading of major countries. According to a report from the Chief Accounting Office in February 2021, Taiwan's economic growth rate in 2020 was 3.11%, and the CPI with a 0.23% drop on average. It is estimated that the economic growth rate in 2021 will be 4.64%, and the annual CPI growth rate 1.33%. Looking into 2021, the slowdown in global economic expansion, the follow-up development of the post COVID-19, the agreement implementation level and the subsequent negotiation process of the Sino-US trade, the fluctuation of oil and other raw material prices, and the impact of geopolitical conflicts on the global economy all attribute to the uncertainties of the global economic outlook. To cope with the future economic changes, it is expected that the central bank will continue the implementation of quantitative easing policies to maintain the price and financial stability in terms of economic growth.

With domestic capital environment loosened in recent years, trends of interest rates low and steady, the Company will lock in the medium- and short-term interest rates, with fixed interest rate as financing tools, in order to deal with the volatile economic situation; and, continue to enhance hedging control to reduce the increase in the Company's financing costs resulted from the fluctuations of interest rate. To reduce the overall financing costs, the Company will continue to observe the trend of market interest rates and cooperate with various long- and short-term financing tools.

6.1.2 The Company and its joint-venture company adopt natural hedging for spot, foreign currency assets and liabilities due to the import & export operation, based on the exchange rate at the moment and the considered accounting cost. Same strategy will be adhered in the future to retain the evaluation of exchange gain and loss caused by exchange rate changes within reasonable level to reduce possible impact on the income of the Company and its joint-venture.

6.2 Policy on high-risk, high-leverage investments, loans, endorsements and guarantees, financial derivative transactions, and other major causes of profit or loss, and future countermeasures:

6.2.1 The Company and its joint-venture have never engaged in any high-risk, high-leverage investments over past year.

6.2.2 In accordance with the "Regulations Governing the Loan of Funds and Making of Endorsements/ Guarantees by Public Companies" promulgated and enforced by the competent authority, the Company and its subsidiaries defined its "Procedures for Capital Lending to Others", which was submitted to the Company Board of Directors and the shareholders' meeting. To comply with risk control and protect the Company from any adverse results, "Procedures for Capital Lending to Others" ratified by the Board of Directors and shareholders' meeting will be followed accordingly.
